Council OKs city budget

Despite protest from two council members, City Council last week approved almost intact an approximate $6 million budget to operate the city during the 1982-83 fiscal year.

Mayor William Oakley, who had earlier labeled the budget as "status quo" had offered little frills and no fat in preparing the budget.

The budget is based on raising appropriations through a 10.65 millage rate which opponents say violates the City Charter. The City Charter has a 10-mill cap. (A mill is $1 for each $1,000 of assessed property value.)

The 10.65 levy is broken down as follows: 9.2 mills for general operation; 0.4 for People Community Hospital Authority; .7 mill for sanitation and .35 mill for a special drain assessment (Blakely Drain). Under a court order, the city must pay for a drain study in the Blakely Drain Improvement District, a directive which has stirred much controversy.

The question council and city officials are attempting to resolve is — Is the assessment an at-large levy; thereby forcing all residents to pay the assessment — or is the assessment for those who would have benefited from the Blakely Drain improvements?

The city has asked for a legal interpretation of the court's order. Lewkowicz said he voted against the Mayor's budget because he didn't have enough "factual information" on it.

"First of all," Lewkowicz said, "I voted against the budget because it is not factual... the information coming from the state is not a constant. The economy and the state aid figures are very unpredictable and I believe we are on shaky grounds with this budget."

"Also, there is a water and sewer fund that is being investigated by the State Treasury Department's Audit Division which is incomplete and therefore projections may change with their (the investigators') findings. I have some grave reservations about the budget."

Raspberry said he voted against the budget "because I believe it violates Article 11, Section 11.1 of the City Charter." That article points out the millage rate limitation.

"And I believe that the Headlee Amendment states that if a municipality is going to levy more than what it is levying, by law it must ask the citizens' permission — that is, for a vote."

Raspberry went on to say, "The people of Romulus should not have to shoulder the burden of continuous high taxes when we have so many unemployed and so many who are just downright poor out there. In the last two years the SEV (State Equalized Valuation) of city (See BUDGET, Page A-3)

Schools fear fiscal disaster after defeat

Romulus school officials fear fiscal disaster after voters Monday turned down, for the second time in nearly two months, an 8.50 millage renewal request labeled as "crucial to the school district's survival."

Voters rejected the levy 1,367 — 1,193. School officials say they don't know where they will go from here. Romulus schools levy 36.15 mills (a mill is $1 for each $1,000 of assessed property value); however, with the loss of the 8.5 mills, the schools would have to cut back and levy 27.65 mills. The 8.5 mills generated approximately $2.5 million of the approximate $15.5 million budget.

However, the loss of the renewal millage will have a disastrous effect on the school district's state aid.

"We could lose approximately $4 million, about $1 1/4 million of that in state aid because of Monday's defeat," Supt. of Schools William Bedell pointed out. "We're in shock around here, and we haven't fully recovered from the impact of the vote."

"I don't think people realize that there may not be any school come this fall... or there could be half-day sessions, but, at this point, the state board of education won't permit that."

Did the board's vote to close Beverly Elementary and Mt. Pleasant schools come back and haunt the school district?

"That partially," Supt. Bedell said. "It helped, but even though we haven't been able to really digest the results as yet, we feel that the overriding factor in Monday's loss was the absentee ballot."

Of the 341 absentee ballots cast, 254 voters rejected the renewal, while only 87 were for the proposal. Precincts that supported the passage of the renewal included the 2nd, 4th, 10th, 12, 14th, 16th and 17th.

Residents living in the Beverly and Mt. Pleasant attendance areas again chose to vote against the proposal.

School officials are also in a dilemma because they can't try for the renewal in the immediate future. State law prohibits them from placing it on the ballot during a state primary.

"We're going to have to give this some serious thought," Dr. Bedell said. "We realize that many are unemployed and times are rough, but we're now talking about a fiscal crisis in our schools that could close down the entire school system within the next few months."

Thoughts on a summer day

When spring and school are behind you and you look forward to a fun-filled summer, what better way to relax than on the cool stone benches at City Hall. Who are we kidding? These students took a break during their sessions as participants in the recent Government Day. They'll finish their classes this week, however, and each will probably go his — or her — separate way.

'Super Sewer'

Turn on...or turn off? Talks decide project's fate

It's time to put up or shut up about the "Super Sewer," it seems.

A major regional conference of municipal and township officials was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. today at the Woodhaven City Hall to discuss the project, which is designed to provide wastewater disposal service for about 20 communities.

Local communities involved are Huron, Van Buren and Canton townships, along with the cities of Romulus and Plymouth.

Other area cities & townships involved in the nearly $500,000 million project include: Brownstown Township, Commerce Township, Flat Rock, Gibraltar, Livonia, City of Northville, Northville Township, Novi, Plymouth Township, Rockwood, South Rockwood, Walled Lake, Wixom and Woodhaven.

Duane R. Egeland, deputy managing director and director of engineering for the Wayne County Public Works, emphasized the importance of the meeting, as well as the need for a final decision on "Super Sewer." He described the conference as "possibly the last opportunity western and southern Wayne County Communities may have to implement a cost-effective regional system because of the recent huge cutbacks in federal funding of wastewater treatment projects."

Today's meeting is designed to underscore the importance of gaining final commitments for the community shares of project costs now covered by available federal funds.

The Wayne County Public Works Board members will recommend a project plan for the Huron Valley Waste Water Control system, also known as "Super Sewer."

No surprises in school board elections

The three successful candidates to the Romulus School Board may feel like winners, but after the voters in the school district turned down an 8.5 mill renewal request, they'll have their work cut out for them.

One of the victors on Monday was Kenneth Berlinn, who was overwhelmingly elected to a 2-year term. He piled up 942 votes. No newcomer, Berlinn has served on the board this past year as an appointee.

The two other successful candidates are: Mary King and Ed Wilkerson.

Mr. King tallied 1,407 votes while Wilkerson got 1,154 to beat out the field for the two 4-year terms available on the board.

Former Board member Jack Bath ran third with 1,062 votes.

In the race for the 2-year term, Ruth Johnson received 463 votes; James Shelton had 538 and Joseph Witherow polled 390.

Berlinn told his supporters that the "work ahead of us is a long and hard one. I want to thank you all for supporting me, but we must now unite to help make this school district the best in the state."

Mrs. King was very pleased with the outcome of the election, but "very disappointed at the millage vote."

"I'll do my best to serve the children and I want to thank all the people who have confidence in me," Mrs. King said. "I want to work to provide the best programs we can offer for all our children."

Both Wilkerson and Mrs. King have worked laboriously on several projects to help the schools and children in the school district.

In the meantime, over in the Huron Community School District, incumbent George Angel lost his bid for re-election in a race that put Jackie Dreganski and newcomer Ronald Tabor into office.

Tabor, a Huron Township employee, received 344 votes, while Dreganski, who was finishing up a term left vacant after ex-board president Jim Umin's resignation, placed second with 335 votes. Both successful candidates will serve for 4 years.

Angel had 279 votes and Diane Kemeny piled up 258 votes in a school district whose rolls list approximately 3,800 registered voters.

State Senator Faust to seek re-election

A strong desire to continue his efforts to diversify and strengthen Michigan's economy — and bring jobs back to Western Wayne County — led Senate Majority Leader William Faust to announce last week that he will seek reelection to the Senate from the 12th District.

Senator Faust, a Democrat from Westland, is completing his fourth term in the Upper Chamber where he was first elected in 1966.

"My decision to seek a fifth term in the Senate is based on my commitment to improving Michigan's economy," Faust said. "There will never be another time when the solutions to our economic problems depend so heavily on experienced leadership in Lansing."

"By continuing to represent this area I can continue to fight for the 10-point economic plan I proposed last year. I remain convinced that adoption of that plan would make new jobs, economic diversification and economic recovery a reality in Michigan."

As Senate Majority Leader for six years Faust has been highly successful in bringing about important changes for the State of Michigan, including legislative approval for portions of his 10-point economic plan. He has also greatly improved the operations and procedures of the Senate, making it a more open and progressive legislative body.

Faust was instrumental in reforming the rules governing the Senate and carried out the philosophy of the Open Meetings and Freedom of Information Acts by making Senate Democratic Caucus meetings and individual senators' expenditure records open to the public. It also was under Senator Faust's leadership that the Senate's voting procedures and record keeping were updated and placed on computer.

It was his successful effort in modernizing the Senate's operations that played a major factor in his selection as one of the "Ten Outstanding State Legislators" in the United States in 1979 by the Assembly of Governmental Employees.

Faust received the Michigan Citizens Lobby's Legislator of the Year Award in 1980, following his efforts to reform the laws governing Blue Cross and Blue Shield, a move designed to help contain health care costs in Michigan.

He also has taken the lead to increase the Senate's role in scrutinizing gubernatorial appointments as provided by the State Constitution. Senator Faust has sponsored new laws, which prohibit offshore oil and gas drilling in the Michigan waters of the Great Lakes and is leading the fight for comprehensive legislation that would regulate surface coal mining and reclamation in Michigan.

In the face of declining state revenues, Senator Faust has been unrelenting in his support for increased funding for education and public libraries. He is currently sponsoring legislation that would reorganize and upgrade the State Library by placing it under the control of the Legislature.

Senator Faust has consistently fought hard to return tax dollars to his district. An example of his efforts to help obtain state-funded projects is the sorely needed widening and resurfacing of Ford Road-M153, now under construction, a multi-million dollar undertaking.

"People from throughout the district have approached me to continue my work in Lansing," Faust said. "They have expressed confidence in my ability to represent them during one of the most difficult, and indeed discouraging, times in Michigan history."

"However, I am confident there are better days ahead for Michigan and with the support of my constituents I will work to make those better days a reality."

ROY RAKER

Roy Raker, age 50 and a farmer in Huron Township for over 30 years, is a former chairman and director of the Wayne County Farm Bureau. He is a member of the Huron Township Sportsman's Club and the Michigan United Conservation Club.

He and his wife Vera, have raised five children and attend St. John's Lutheran Church.

In 21st District

Ex-Huron supervisor joins House race

Roy Raker, former supervisor of Huron Township and a past state representative candidate, has announced that he will be a candidate this fall for the newly formed 21st district state representative seat.

The announcement was made by Raker yesterday at his Huron Township farm.

"The problems that we were facing during the election two years ago still are the same problems we are facing today," Raker said.

"Government is still too large and takes too many taxes. Unemployment is even worse. And our elected politicians still are spending more time with the special interests than with trying to find ways to relieve our local communities."

Citing the continuing problems facing our state, Raker told supporters that he will be renewing the efforts that were made two years ago when as a Republican candidate for state representative, he pulled a near upset over 16 year Democratic incumbent Edward Mahalak.

Due to reapportionment, Mahalak has announced that he will be running in another district this year.

Says Norm Shenkle, recent President of the Monroe County Republicans, "With Mahalak's district being moved to the north, Roy is undoubtedly expected to become the front-runner. He ran a good campaign two years ago, gaining both Republican and Democratic supporters and is well respected generally."

Raker has stated that if elected his first priorities will be to seek real property tax relief for community residents and to attempt to curb the tendency of government to regulate people's lives.

"Government is not the answer to everything," said Raker. "Government must not only be limited to protect our freedom but it also must be made into something we can afford."

Wayne attorney Milt Mack will also challenge Mahalak

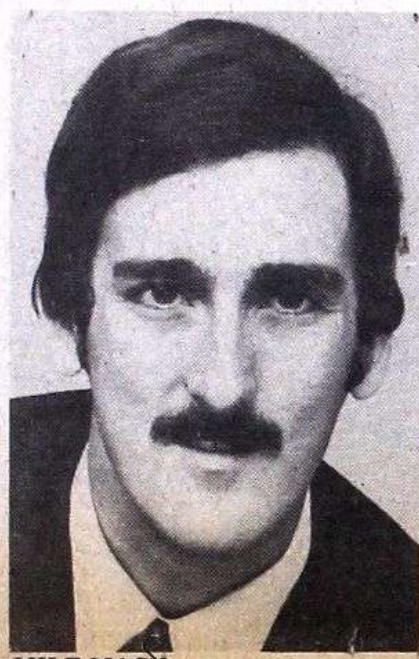

Milton Mack, mayor pro-tem of the City of Wayne and attorney with the Detroit law firm of Tucker, Barbour and Mack, is seeking election as Wayne County commissioner in the newly-created 11th County Commissioner District.

Mack, 33, is a lifelong resident of Western Wayne County and has served on the Wayne City Council for five years.

A Democrat, Mack will seek the party nomination in the August primary, and face the Republican candidate in the November election. The 11th District includes residents living in Wayne, Romulus, New Boston, Canton Township, Huron Township, Van Buren Township, Belleville, Sumpter Township, Flat Rock and Rockwood.

In seeking election to the first Board of Commissioners to serve under terms of the new Wayne County Charter, Mack has set county reform and responsiveness as top priorities in the new government.

Pledging a commitment to continue to work for reform of county government, Mack has established a track record of commitment to reform in his legal efforts during the past several months on behalf of certain public officials and members of the Wayne County Charter Commission.

Mack has volunteered his professional services in a legal action against the Wayne County Road Commission's newly formed administrative "union."

"The administrators' union" represents open defiance of the will of the people who adopted the charter, and is a mockery of the labor movement in this state," Mack said.

"Passage of the home rule charter presents a unique opportunity to reform county government," he added. "It's time for responsible people to step forward and take an active part in putting county government to work."

"With the right elected leaders, and with citizens who demand effectiveness, Wayne County government can regain its dignity and purpose."

Experience in city government and a background of community involvement, coupled with the insight gained through legal battles with the Road Commission, are qualifications that Mack puts forth in announcing his candidacy.

An attorney for the past six years, Mack earned a bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1972, and a law degree in 1975 from Wayne State University.

He was chosen by the Wayne Jaycees to be honored as Outstanding Young Man for 1981-82. He has served as special counsel to the chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, as a delegate to the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments, and on various community boards and organizations.

Mack approaches the position of county commissioner with enthusiasm and commitment.

"Those who are elected now will have the opportunity to return to the people their government. County officials in the future will have to be accountable and responsive to the taxpayers."

Moran wants Ford's Congressional seat

Mitchell Moran, Republican candidate for the U.S. Congress in the 15th Congressional District, announced last night that he would seek his party's nomination for Congress. Moran's supporters organized a party for their candidate.

Moran stated that this is "a chance to thank all people who circulated petitions during the past three weeks. It will also be an opportunity for the people of the 15th District to stop by and get acquainted with the candidate and members of his staff."

In addition to celebrating the official filing of nominating petitions, Moran hoped last night's party would be used to recruit the many volunteer workers that will be needed to make the campaign a successful one.

Anyone interested in volunteering their time to the Committee to Elect Mitchell Moran to U.S. Congress should stop by or call the newly opened campaign headquarters located at 5853 Telegraph Road, Taylor, Michigan 48180. The telephone number is (313) 287-8120.

DOT to take highway bids

Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) announced today that bids on highway and airport maintenance and construction will be solicited by the Department of Transportation.

Included among the 51 projects up for bid will be the construction of two paved median crossovers on US-12 (Michigan Avenue) at Rawsonville Road and just east of Rawsonville Road, in Ypsilanti and Van Buren Townships.

The bid taking process will begin at 10:30 a.m. in the Lansing

Civic Center on June 16.

The scheduled completion date for this project is September, 1982.

property has increased by 35.9 percentage and that's ridiculous."

City Treasurer Bev McNally felt that the Mayor's budget was "technically good and was one of the better budgets offered the city in recent years.

"There are two major aspects when you view the budget — technical and philosophical — and I believe the budget is technically good, and since I have no vote in the adoption of the budget, I will reserve my philosophical remarks about it."

Baumann said that he had initial reservations about the budget but "felt that overall it (the budget) was good for the citizens of Romulus."

Family Day plans on schedule

Van Buren's Fourth Annual Family Day is less than a month away and plans for the day's events are falling into place according to Treasurer Tom Welty, Chairman.

Van Buren Family Day will be held on Sunday, July 4 beginning at noon.

The Belleville area of western Wayne county also has the largest concentration of pick your own berries than any other area in the state. The Belleville area will provide over 150 acres of excellent berry picking in June and early July. With the depressed economy and the high cost of transportation, this promises to be a big pick your own year.

The close-in Belleville area pick your own farms provide both entertainment and savings for many people in the metropolitan area.

Police Chief asks for cooperation

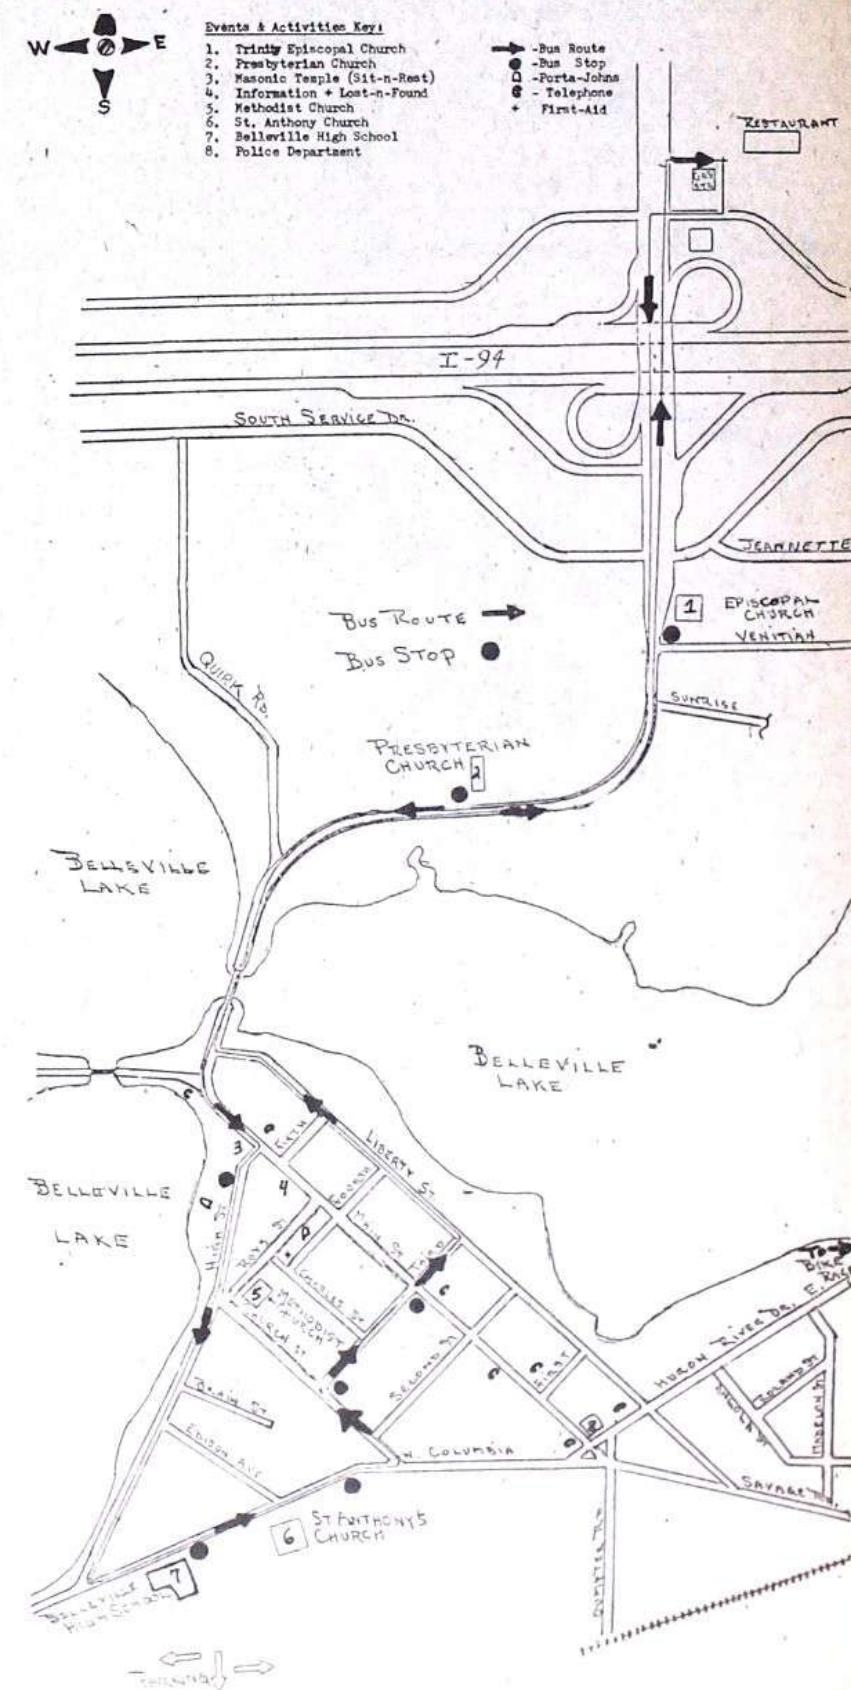

Belleville Police Chief Willard "Doc" Dockter is urging residents and visitors to come to the Belleville Festival "to enjoy themselves and have a lot of fun." He stresses, however, that visitors should utilize available shuttle buses.

"We expect huge crowds," Chief Dockter said, "and whenever you have huge crowds gathering in a city there can be problems, so we're asking everyone's cooperation. The festival is beautiful. Let's not wreck it or spoil it for someone."

The map accompanying the story points out where citizens may park their vehicles and hitch a shuttle bus into the city.

Police say that if residents or visitors have problems, telephone numbers are 699-2033 or 699-2395 (emergency).

Welty says recall petitions mislead Van Buren voters

One of five members of the Van Buren Township Board targeted for recall today lashed out at his critics and presented his side of the story.

"The allegations set forth on the recall petitions against me are misleading and based on false information," said Tom Welty, township treasurer. "And I believe the people of this community will prove me right."

Welty, township clerk Doreen Craven, trustees Tim Toohy and Chester Wojie along with the township supervisor Patricia Cullin will face a recall election on August 10.

The recall group feels that the five elected officials were delinquent in carrying out their duties when they hired controversial Richard Debs as a patrolman, then later promoted him to the rank of police commander. The group feels that the officials violated Public Act 203.

Welty however points out "that Public Act 203 requires no minimum employment standards for a Police Commander. The former Police Commander's qualifications and background were investigated by the then Police Chief George Montgomery, prior to approval of hiring of the former Police Commander as a policeman."

Welty went on to say that the former Police Commander resigned prior to the circulation of recall petitions against him. "The township is responsible for unlimited liability for the actions of all members of the Police Department," he said.

The second charge the recall group has levied is that the township has not monitored the local landfill and to that charge Welty says: "Control, operation and monitoring of the Wayne Disposal Landfill is under the jurisdiction of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the Wayne County Health Department."

Special tribute

A State House of Representative resolution, sponsored by Edward E. Mahalak (D-38) and co-sponsored by Senator James DeSana, singled out long-time Huron Township Clerk, Mary Lou Carey for her many contributions to the community and her recent election as president of the Michigan Township Association. Above, State Rep. Mahalak presents the coveted resolution to Mrs. Carey who also was instrumental in bringing the astronauts who traveled to the moon to New Boston for a visit.

House resolution honors Huron clerk

State Representative Edward E. Mahalak paid tribute to Mary Lou Carey, Huron Township Clerk, in recognition of her election as President of the Wayne County Municipal and Township Clerks' Association.

Rep. Mahalak presented Mrs. Carey with a House Concurrent Resolution from the Michigan Legislature which he sponsored. Mahalak stated that this is a challenging position and he commended her for her achievements in government and community service. He said, "I have known Mary Lou for a number of years and she has excelled in public service efforts. As the Clerk for Huron Township she is admired for her work as a community activist."

Mrs. Carey's good deeds include service as a Girl Scout Leader, a member of the New Boston-Huron Centennial Committee, the Huron Schools Study Committee and the Huron Ap-plefest Committee.

She further played a significant role in bringing the astronauts who traveled to the moon to New Boston for a visit. She serves as Secretary of the Huron Township Democratic club, is a member of the Board of Directors of the Michigan Township's Association Eighteenth District and she serves as a member of the International Institute of Municipal and Township Clerk's Association.

Mahalak stated, "Mary Lou is indeed to be commended for her many achievements and service to the people and I wish to extend to her my very best for every success in this important position."

Senator James DeSana co-sponsored Representative Mahalak's House Concurrent Resolution.

Romulus man pleads guilty to tax fraud

United States Attorney Leonard R. Gilman announced today that James McCain, 47, a Romulus man who prepared federal tax returns for others, pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court to one count of aiding in the preparation of a false and fraudulent income tax return and one count of fraudulently receiving, forging and negotiating a federal tax refund check.

Gilman stated that McCain faces a possible four years in prison and a $6,000 fine. He will be sentenced in approximately six weeks pending a report from the U.S. Probation Department requested by U.S. District Court Judge Robert E. DeMascio.

McCain was indicted May 4, 1982, on 12 tax-related violations. The indictment contained nine counts of wilfully aiding and assisting in the preparation of false federal income tax returns and three counts of fraudulently receiving and negotiating taxpayer's refund checks. The remaining charges will be dismissed at the time of sentencing.

McCain, in the interim, is free on a $5,000 personal bond.

In 1974, McCain faced similar charges. He pleaded guilty then to a charge of aiding in the preparation of a false return. He was sentenced to three years probation and fined $500 with an admonishment from the court not to engage in tax return preparation.

The case was investigated by Special Agents of the Internal Revenue Service, Criminal Investigation Division, and agents of the U.S. Secret Service. It was presented to the court by Assistant U.S. Attorney Richard Delonis.

'Buy American' drive spreading

The "Buy American" commitment by local units of government is growing rapidly.

That's the good word from Wayne County Commissioner Richard E. Manning (Detroit/Redford Twp.) who is spearheading the drive to have communities across the nation put their purchasing power into American made goods.

Manning reported that eight of the 43 Wayne County cities and townships have made the honor roll including Huron Township, Sumpter Township, Van Buren Township, Allen Park and Plymouth Township, Redford Township, Highland Park, and Northville townships.

A resolution to create an "Honor Roll" of counties, cities and townships joining the "Buy American" program will be presented to Wayne County's Board of Commissioners in the near future to pay tribute to those government units pledging to buy American goods made by American men and women.

Skeleton found in Van Buren ditch

County medical examiner has mystery to solve

Local police have on their hands two unrelated violent deaths to solve.

The Wayne County Medical Examiner said today that it will try to determine the cause of death of a man whose remains were found this week in an expressway ditch near I-275 in Van Buren Township.

"It is difficult to say at this point, but we will try to reconstruct the skeleton of the remains of the victim as best we can to determine the cause of death," a WCME spokesman said.

According to Van Buren police, a 30-year-old Taylor man discovered the remains in the ditch at I-275 and Ecorse while searching for beer cans and pop bottles. The man asked police not to identify him.

Police said that the body may have been in the ditch for at least two years and that the victim had been dressed in blue jeans. Police said that strands of the man's hair were also found and they indicated the victim to be a white male.

No other identification was available.

In an unrelated incident, a Belleville man lost his life in an auto mishap on Saturday near Mt. Clemens when the vehicle he was driving apparently ran off the road and crashed into a nearby tree.

The fatality occurred in Armada Township and township officials said they didn't have "very much on the crash."

The victim was identified as Basil Vincent Bell, of 24375 Bohn. Police said that the victim was alive at the scene, however, he was pronounced dead en route to the hospital.

State Police also could not offer much information on the cause of the accident. They point out that there were no skid marks or "other evidence that the victim had tried to avoid the tree." The tree is situated on a curve in the road.

'Park sticker' law revised

A rewritten 'park-sticker' resolution requiring purchase of either daily or annual stickers to play in the county parks was approved by the Ways and Means Committee Thursday and will be sent on to the full board of County Commissioners for further action.

The original resolution by Commissioner Kay Beard of Inkster/Dearborn Heights, called for a $10 annual sticker to park in the park and a $25 fine for violators. Her new resolution establishes a $1.00 daily or $10 annual "admission fee" with 25 percent of each to be used by the Park Board of Trustees for maintenance and the balance to the county's general fund.

Commissioners have also requested that a copy of the resolution be forwarded to the Park Trustees "to facilitate matters", and the portion dealing with fines be sent to the county's Legislative Agent for action by State law makers.

According to an opinion from the county's Corporation Counsel, there were several "legal impediments" that would restrict Ms. Beard's original resolution: neither the county nor the Road Commission, responsible for the park operations, is authorized to charge a fee for parking; the Road Commission has sole jurisdiction over care and control of park property through its Park Board of Trustees; and that there is no provision under the District Courts Act for the county to receive funds other than those imposed for the violation of a penal law of the state which shall be paid to the County Treasurer for library purposes.

In addition, the Corporation Counsel points out that the Board of Commissioners is not authorized to promulgate rules or regulations to regulate the use of county parks nor is it entitled to share in the fines imposed for violators.

Ms. Beard believes her rewritten resolution will avoid these legal entanglements.

Even if you were not able to get to the "Open House" on Friday, there's still time to glance at the bid for a three-bedroom ranch built by the Belleville High School students under the care and instruction of Narvelus Pearson and Bill A. Nagy, supervisor of Vocational Education. The house, located at 193 S. Biggs, is on a lot 72 feet by 120 feet with living space of 1,440 square feet and has such features as Anderson insulated windows and screens along with insulation, 12 inch ceilings, 3 1/2 inch walls and styrofoam. The price tag for this sturdily constructed house is $72,500 and students who helped to build the house include: Gary Akridge, Allen Eggers, George Buhro, Robbe Foy, Ronald Foy, Donald Fuller, Walter Gierwicke, Aaron Holmes, Ernest Krushlin, Jayme Lau, Dennis McShane, Charles Meadows, Robert Queener, Ray Rayburn, Wayne Richards, William Roza, Kevin Schmitt, Perry Simon, Mark Spalding, Kevin Towler, Jon Wegerbauer and Scott Wilsey.

The four-week course will meet on Mondays and Wednesdays from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. Interested students must attend Orientation/Registration on June 21 at 9 a.m. or on June 22 at 2 p.m. in the Western Center's Multi-Purpose Room.

Written consent from both a parent or guardian and a high school or junior high school official should

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has cancelled layoffs of 650 to 700 employees and instead will ask for a one-mill tax increase on the August primary election ballot to eliminate a projected $16.7 million deficit.

According to County officials, if the ballot proposal succeeds it would be basis for borrowing on anticipated tax revenue with permission from the State Municipal Finance Commission. The borrow would finance County operations through end of the current fiscal year, Nov. 30, to prevent delayed pay for employees and vendors.

For homeowners, the one-mill assessment proposed for one year only would mean a dollar more for each $1000 of property valuation. The County would collect about $18.2 million.

In rescinding the layoffs, a decision made during their meeting on June 10, several commissioners argued that the County work force essential for provision of public services is "already cut to the bone." During hearings two weeks ago, County department and agency heads all said that further reductions would force their functions below minimum levels of acceptable service.

County Clerk James R. Killeen threatened to shut down divisions of his office which provide birth and death certificates, marriage licenses, gun permits and assumed names for titles of business firms. Also, both Sheriff William Lucas and Prosecutor William L. Cahalan filed lawsuits to prevent cuts in their staff, and County Corporation Counsel George Cross said further cuts in his department would impede ability to defend against the suits from Lucas and Cahalan.

The layoffs were planned for June 14 and were to remain in effect at least until December and would have closed the D. J. Healy Youth Home for one year. The Youth Home houses non-criminal neglected and abused children.

First proposed by a special financial study group whose recommendations were adopted in turn by the commissioners' Financial Crisis Committee, the Ways and Means Committee and the Board itself, the layoff plan was formed after a report from the County Board of Auditors last month which outlined expenditures in excess of revenue.

The report projected unexpected expenditures amounting to $11.1 million and a revenue shortfall of $5.6 million. In labor relations negotiating, the Board had hoped to win some $11.4 million in employee concessions this year, and carry over $4.5 million for elimination next year.

The labor relations negotiating team unsuccessfully sought a waiver of cost-of-living-adjustments (COLA) or salary amounting all together to $3600 per employee in this fiscal year and the first quarter of the next fiscal year.

A chief reason for rescinding the layoffs was a proposal considered by the Board which would have exempted layoffs in the County Courts, the Sheriff's department and Prosecutor's office. Commissioner Arthur B. Blackwell, who proposed cancelling the layoffs, said that exemption for these departments would impose added hardship on all other departments.

Blackwell is a member of the Labor Relations Board which has been negotiating for employee concessions that would have prevented layoffs or the need for the one-mill tax proposal. He said that layoffs unfairly affect those with least seniority, and that the prospect of delayed paydays might offer more leverage for negotiating employee concessions.

The vote to rescind layoffs, was 14-7.

Library 'friends' receive tribute

To underscore the hard work and genuine interest the Friends of the Library-Western Center has expended over the past year, a "Plaque Hanging Ceremony" was recently held at Wayne County Community College.

The Friends of the Library, an offspring of the Area Number Seven Citizen's Advisory Council of Wayne County Community College, was organized last summer to raise funds for supplementary library materials to be used in the Western Center's Learning Resource Center.

"There are no membership dues. We ask only time and participation through gifts, donations, energy and ideas, so that we may continue to strive for the growth of a most unique and well-equipped library," said Margaret Smith, co-chairperson of the FOTL and a retired Huron Township librarian.

Two organizations were honored for their contributions to the Friends of the Library as were individuals who have shown outstanding dedication.

The Lafayette Allen, Sr. Memorial Scholarship Fund and the Professional and Administrative Association of Wayne County Community College donated funds to acquire additional resource materials for the Library.

Barbara Rogalle-Miller and the Western Regional Students raised funds during the Winter

A plaque for some library friends

Taking part in a unique ceremony to honor some special people and "Friends of the Library" of the Western Region of the Wayne County Community College are Dr. Maurice Geary (from left), Wayne County Community College, Executive Officer of Professional and Administration; Margaret Smith, co-chairperson of the Wayne County Community College Friends of the Library; June Whitteco, coordinator of the Student Nights at Rogalles; and Edith Allen, of the Lafayette Allen Sr. Memorial Scholarship Fund.

1982 Semester at "Western Region Student Nights" at Rogalle's.

Active members of the Friends of the Library such as Margaret Smith; Valerie Smith-Higgins, Belleville Strawberry Festival Coordinator; Christine Bentley, owner of Bentley Art Gallery;

Barbara Rogalle-Miller, owner of Rogalles; Dency McCartney, co-chairperson of the Friends of the Library and Jessie Shelby, Chairperson of the Area Seven Citizens Advisory Council of WCCC, received Certificates of Appreciation from WCCC for their outstanding achievements in organizing several fundraising events held in Belleville over the past year.

The First and Second Annual Golf Outings at the Pine Creek Country Club, a book sale at the 1981 Strawberry Festival, and a Christmas Bazaar-Art Show at WCCC's Western Center were among the successful fund-raising events.

Van Buren educators honor retirees

The end of the school year may mean diplomas and parties for some, but it also brought the curtains down on long and illustrious careers for some of the area's well known educators.

The Van Buren

Education Association last week honored its retirees at a reception held at Pine Creek Country Club.

Helen Wilson and Virginia Gerst retired last year after 31½ years and 27 years in the school system respectively.

Those who announced retirement plans this year included: Marjory Bock, 30½ years; Opal Peterson, 15½ years; Helen Stokes, 26 years; Pat Stokes, 17 years; Muriel Wolfe, 12 years, and Roland Wolfe, 28 years.

"I feel people like these personify all that is good in education today," a spokesman who wished not to be identified said. "We hear so much about teachers not doing their jobs these days, but those in the profession know how untrue that is.

"Each of us is dedicated to doing our best, and these people retiring today exemplify the best of the crop."

Each retiring teacher received a "Silver Apple", a token of the VBEA's appreciation of their many years of dedication to the education of the children in the Van Buren community.

'Now that's inedible'

"Now That's Inedible", a nature walk highlighting some of our more toxic plants, will be held 2 p.m. at the Nature Center of Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock on Sunday, June 27.

A Park naturalist will point out and discuss plants causing external discomfort such as poison ivy and the nettles. He will also help persons identify other plants that have internal toxic properties such as butternuts, mayapples, nightshades and dogbanes.

This program is "free".

For information contact the Nature Center at Oakwood Metropark - Phone 697-9181 (Belleville).

A vehicle entry permit is required (Annual: regular - $7 or senior citizen - $2 or daily - $2).

Views On Dental Health

By KENNETH A. FOX, D.D.S.

HALF A TOOTH BETTER THAN NONE

Sometimes the dentist can save only part of a tooth (usually a molar) because of extreme bone loss or a vertical fracture involving half the tooth. Half a tooth, however, is better than none. The dentist can divide the molar in half vertically and surgically remove the one or two damaged roots of the weak half and save the undamaged, strong half with root canal therapy. This is called a hemisection.

Occasionally, an infected root is surgically removed without damaging the crown part of the tooth. This is particularly advantageous when there is a cap on the tooth and hemisection it would involve cutting through or destroying an otherwise good restoration, or if the tooth is healthy and in good contact with the adjacent teeth. In those situations, rather than hemisection, the tissue along side the roots is bisected (lifted and turned), and the infected root is found and removed. Root canal therapy is always done on the remaining root or roots. If there is ever a choice of saving a tooth (even half a tooth), by all means, save it!

A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of KENNETH A. FOX, D.D.S., 9840 Haggerty Rd., Belleville, Phone 697-4400.

our opinions

Compromise is key to budget dilemma

The art of compromise is not something that comes easy for politicians in the City of Westland or in many other communities. Many times political differences have been allowed to simmer on a back burner, rather than be put to rest for the betterment of the community.

Those differences have surfaced again in the City, with members of the City Council and the Mayor wrangling over the community's 1983 budget, a budget that shows a streak of creative management, on the part of both the mayor and council, needed for the city to survive the current economic upheaval.

In jockeying for positions prior to last week's vote on the budget, the mayor and council came out at odds over whether or not there would be a tax increase. Testing the waters at a Truth in Taxation public hearing last month, the council perceived the mood of residents as being no new taxes, a stand a majority of the legislative body had taken in resolution earlier in the year.

The mayor, however, in announcing his budget, favored capturing half of the tax increase allowed the community under the Headlee Amendment. While he had at first proposed 7.50 mills for operation of the city, final adjustments once state revenue figures became available raised that amount to 7.66 mills. He sought to capture a portion of the new revenue to minimize the effect of a $600,000 deficit on city services.

Members of the council compromised their stand on no tax increase last week, by levying 7.31 mills for operations, the lowest in the city's 16-year history, and a bone of contention has developed between the mayor and the council between the two levies, which works out to a $9 difference for the average taxpayer. The mayor would like the $207,000 that $9 per average taxpayer will generate, claiming he would be able to fill the 11 positions eliminated in the 1983 budget, positions that include two police officers and two fire fighters.

Convinced that his way is what the people would favor, the mayor has vetoed the budget.

We must laud both the Mayor and the City Council for the creativity shown in the new budget. It is apparent that both parties had the good of the city at heart, that they cared about what would happen to it, its employees and the residents, if they had not taken the steps necessary to put the city on an even keel.

However, we must question the mayor's decision to veto the budget. There is little hope that three members of the six councilmen who voted for the budget will be swayed to see things his way, so his veto is more an exercise in futility.

Furthermore, we cannot fathom how $207,000 can be sliced 11 ways for 11 employees, especially when estimates exceed $40,000 to train, equip and put just one police officer on the street.

Councilman Kenneth Mehl last week stated that the dispute will be construed as another "political hassle" and that the council will be "accused of not working with the mayor." We think just the opposite is true in this instance. While the council compromised on its no tax increase stand, the mayor has remained firm. He has taken the position that, in the case of the budget, it must be his way and his way only.

We disagree. That attitude is not in the best interests of the city, and it would behoove the mayor to reconsider his decision. The budget, as approved last week, should be allowed to do the job it was designed to do—politics aside.

The war in Middle East has become a Holy War

Why is there no peace in the Middle-East, and why is Israel constantly placed in the position of having to fight to defend her boundaries and the lives of her citizens?

The answer was given thousands of years ago and man has deliberately chosen to ignore it.

However, God has stated over and over again that the Israelites are His chosen people. He goes with them to war to fight for them against their enemies, to save them!

God set the boundaries of the Promised Land of the Jews and no matter how much other nationalities dislike it, God gave it to the Jews for an eternal inheritance. When nations are fighting against Israel, they are actually fighting against God; in an absolutely "no win" position. They have often been dispersed and oppressed but Jerusalem has always been their home land.

The P.L.O. is alleged to have said that Israel has no right to exist and, if this is true, the P.L.O. is guilty of committing "living genocide" against the Jewish people. By whose authority are they declaring their position?

Israel has just as much right to exist as any other people. God is no respecter of persons and He created all of us. Any nation which takes sides against Israel is just as guilty of fighting against God as the P.L.O. if they have indeed stated that Israel has no right to exist.

All Christians should be up in arms, decrying the persecution Israel is enduring, and has endured, especially during the unbelievable atrocities of the holocaust up until now. By our faith, we are the spiritual seed of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob; the Israelites are our Brothers and Sisters.

If we deny them we deny our faith and our Father, God. Great harm has been done to the Jews in the name of Christianity and the name of Jesus, Christ, the Messiah, has been profaned by people who call themselves Christians but who "hate Jews". Jesus Christ was a Jew; of the royal House of David. If we say we love Jesus and hate Jews, we are liars and the truth is not in us.

There will be peace in the Middle-East until Jesus Christ returns simply because of Satan, the liar, who is the devil. Sin is the cause of the lack of peace and war is the effect. When the fullness of the Gentiles is come (and the end is very near), then Jesus will return for the Jews as their King and Messiah and gather them to Him in everlasting glory and love.

No man will ever take them out of His hand because they are the "Apple of God's Eye". As He said, in the book of Isaiah "and the Lord shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with His mighty wind shall He shake His hand over the river; and shall smite it in the seven streams, and make men to go over dryshod. And there shall be an highway for the remnant of His people, which shall be left, from Assyria; like as it was to Israel in the day that He came up out of the land of Egypt."

We do our best to please our God

In every way we can

Denying life the pleasures

Contrary to his plan.

We strain in our behavior

To keep our conduct good

And follow his commandments

As every mortal should.

We pray that he will help us

Along the narrow path

Control desires of the flesh

To not provoke his wrath.

We want to go to heaven

For a much deserved reward

And leave this evil influence

That saints can ill afford

If I should die and find not God

Much to my chagrin

I'd wish to be alive once more

To once again begin.

FOCUS Hope - feeding the hungry

FOCUS: Hope will have a new distribution center on the Wayne County General Hospital grounds shortly, thanks to emergency action by the county board of commissioners Thursday.

The three-story former commissary located conveniently near a rail spur is being cleared of hospital supplies and equipment and it is expected the first floor will be available Sept. 1, according to Commissioner Norbert Wisniewski, a member of the Board of Institutions and the Human Resources Committee.

Members of the committee chaired by Arthur B. Blackwell, watched a video presentation earlier in the week provided by Father William Cunningham whose leadership in the FOCUS: Hope food programs has drawn literally thousands of volunteers across the nation.

Father Cunningham said focus: hope is a vital program that will bring many benefits to the low-income, elderly and handicapped residents. "Hunger, malnutrition, and the general array of related health problems brought on by the lack of adequate food is the thrust of this program," he explained.

FOCUS: Hope, like Wayne-Metro CDSA, is a non-profit organization which provides as only part of its services, food to the needy households.

"The history of this agency has been well documented," Father Cunningham said. "Currently, the agency is serving more than 45,000 Wayne County residents with food stuffs prescribed by a medical physician. This operation," he continued, "has a pressing need to expand into western parts of the county because the long distances between present facilities and the additional needy in out-county is a terrible restriction."

The commodities program—only a part of FOCUS: Hope—is sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture and will include passing out some 184,800 pounds of cheese. In helping to describe the program, Luther J. Flanagan, executive director of the Wayne-Metropolitan Community Services Agency, said his biggest problem, now, is to determine how much space all that cheese will require.

Wayne-Metro is also providing food commodities to low-income families, but the difference is that Wayne-Metro's distribution is not based upon medical doctors' prescriptions. The State of Michigan has designated the Community Action Agencies as the distributors of the surplus food commodities stored by USDA in warehouses around the nation.

To date, Wayne-Metro has distributed approximately 110,000 pounds of cheese to Wayne County residents. Flanagan said more than 43 public and private agencies and organizations have formal contracts with Wayne-Metro to pass out this food on a voluntary basis.

The two agencies, FOCUS: Hope and Wayne-Metro, have agreed to provide adequate maintenance, security, insurance, and manpower for the commissary building in exchange for use of the structure. Flanagan said the county would also be insured against any liability arising from the operation.

The Senator Says 'Yes'

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

There's something almost sinfully charismatic about Senate Majority Leader William Faust. You meet him for the first time, as a total stranger, and you come away feeling he is your friend. That is indeed rare, but the charisma is definitely there.

It was there last Friday noon when many prominent area Democrats gathered to hear Faust announce that he would seek reelection to the Senate from the 12th district. There were hints that the distinguished man in the wheelchair would retire from the political arena.

But, although many of his colleagues are openly vulnerable in this year of the redistricting scramble, the man from Westland told the group that his decision "to seek a fifth term in the Senate is based on my commitment to improving Michigan's economy."

The apocalypse of the ailing economy and the absurdity of the deepening depression, which has left thousands of the state's residents unemployed, and millions more looking for jobs across the country, has convinced Faust "that experience leadership is needed more than ever in Lansing."

If that experience is of Faust's fiber, then we wholeheartedly agree. Considered to be among the best legislators in this state, Faust was the recipient of the Michigan Citizens' Lobby's "Legislator of the Year" Award in 1980. He has sponsored and has successfully seen laws enacted that prohibit offshore oil and gas drilling in the Great Lakes and leads the fight for comprehensive legislation that would regulate surface coal mining.

And, equally important, despite his trying schedule, Faust remains conscious of the "people back home."

There is a tone in this column, that violates a cardinal rule of reporting—that of objectivity. After all, what of the other candidates who will step forward to challenge Faust for the party's nomination (how foolish) or the Republican candidate? Faust is the front runner.

But the cobblestone of politics is that when you find a man who has done the job and he wants it, you stick with him.

One would only have to look around the room where some of the most influential and prominent people of the community—even Republicans—were in attendance, to realize that this man commands respect.

The V.I.P.s who were in attendance included: Romulus Mayor William Oakley, Belleville Mayor Justin Emerson, Van Buren Township Supervisor Patricia Cullin, Huron Township Clerk Mary Lou Carey, Taylor Mayor Cameron Prebe, and many more.

And, remember that temporary tax the state recently passed—the one that went from 4.6 to 5.6? Well, Faust says it's temporary.

I didn't believe it went it came across the wire. But, if Faust said it's temporary, then it's temporary.

Now that we've placed him in that great fish bowl, let's see how he'll swim out of this one.

retain Welty

EDITOR — I have known Tom Welty to be a dedicated political figure and a concerned human being.

He has given his full time and ability to perform his duties as an elected official in Van Buren Township. His dedication to the welfare of Van Buren Township residents has professionalized the office of Treasurer and the Police Department.

It would be a great loss to the community if he could not continue his work. I urge all voters to continue Tom Welty in office and vote NO on his recall.

'Thank you'
Subway

EDITOR — I would like to take this opportunity to thank Gary Nault of Subway Catering for coming through and doing a fantastic job of catering the Wayne Jaycees President's Party and Installation Banquet on June 5th.

Gary and his catering service came to our rescue when Mother Hubbard catering refused to honor our agreement and would not cater our banquet at the last minute, because, in their words, "the Jaycees are not a large enough organization for them to cater", and they did not have the time for us.

Once again, a big "thank-you", to Gary and his crew. Your food was delicious, and the service excellent. You helped to make this one of the best President's Parties ever.

ANP missed
a good story

EDITOR — As I was looking through this week's sports section I came across an article about a Little Leaguer who pitched a perfect game.

Last year as I remembered you were given an article on a young pitcher who played on a Little League farm team who pitched a no-hitter, hit a grand slam, home run, and won the game you could say by himself. To me that is worth a little article.

Yet the person who gave you the article was told that if you had room enough you could squeeze it in.

It seems to me that you always have room for articles that pertain to Romulus or Canton, Never to Belleville.

If that is your attitude I will not purchase your newspaper. (I purchase it weekly).

Wick School's

EDITOR — We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the students, parents and staff who attended the Wick School Fair and helped to make it a huge success. Special thanks are in order for the Wick P.T.A., Mrs. Geraldine Torres, Ms. Emily Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Michniewicz for their help.

The following Romulus merchants contributed items for the raffle and without this assistance we would not have had such a successful event: Family Pharmacy, Family Hair Shop, Greenbrair, Bilmar's Market, Monarch Cleaners, Captain Nemo's, Dave's Barber Shop, Ozga Greenhouse, Metro Hair Fashions, McDonalds, Baldos and Kentucky Fried Chicken.

Also, Bob Berne Barber Shop, Super J, Mach's Flower Shop, Fred's Party Store, Abby Inn, The Cake Lady, Uptown Hair Fashions, Shampoo Bowl, Victory Cab Company, Davis Auto-body Craftsmen and Geraldine Torres.

The following Wayne merchants also are to be thanked for their contributions: Kegger's Party Store, Shirl's Ceramics, Leo's Gift Shop, Midpoint Bookstore and Wayne Hobby Shoppe.

Because of your concern and willingness to donate items, you had a part in helping to send seventy sixth graders to Camp Nahelu for a week with no charge to the children. The week is spent in educational pursuits, without the confines of classroom walls. Thank you again for doing your part for the extracurricular activities in Romulus Schools.

Why take bang out of July 4th?

EDITOR — It's pretty sad to think about the 4th of July without any fireworks. I have lived in Van Buren Township for many years and looked forward to the display put on each year.

We always planned a big family picnic just for the occasion. Last year was a big disappointment.

Oh, we had the family picnic, but it just wasn't the same. I can sympathize with people of High Street with all the people on their grass and making a mess. But what I can't understand is why they yell about one afternoon a year when they put up with the whole town being disrupted with the Strawberry Festival for three whole days.

Our heritage was here long before strawberries were. I feel the Festival is very commercialized and runs way out of line as a festival — it's more of a carnival.

I wonder if the St. Anthony's Church were to have Black Jack tables set up along High St. for July 4th, if maybe we wouldn't see the return of the fireworks display.

Dogs can be very vicious

EDITOR — I'm writing in regards to the article that was printed about the Post-master's complaint about dogs.

My name is Patricia Thielhauer. My five-year old son William was attacked by a dog. He was attacked in February. William had 26 stitches put into the right side of his face. He was hospitalized for five days in Garden City Hospital. My son has got physical and mental damage over a dog, that is permanent.

It's not fair if someone was to cut someone and do that much damage. They would be put in prison. In my opinion, the owners of all these mean and vicious dogs should be responsible for these dogs. And should be punished. No one or anything has the right to damage a child for life.

There are two people at fault. First, the owners of dogs. They abuse and mistreat dogs for the purpose of protection. They do not keep their dogs in proper boundaries according to their size. They allow their dog to run free. And most of the dogs are not fed and watered properly.

The second at fault is the city. They do not enforce strict enough laws. There are too many dogs running loose. And if and when they catch a dog, they issue a warning. The second time they go to court. To pay a fine to make the city rich. But still nothing is done about the dog. The dogs are left to run the streets again.

And then the dog attacks and the city doesn't want to be bothered.

In the case of my son, the dog warden didn't want to quarantine the dog at the humane society. He said they were packed and it was very costly to keep them for ten days. He wanted to quarantine the dog at its home. Knowing he had been out before over the dog getting loose. We got nasty with the dog warden for fear he was going to leave the dog there. And if it got loose my son would have to go through all those shots. Or worse it would attack again.

We assured the dog warden that we would pay any and all costs regarding the dog. Finally he agreed to take the dog. The owner of the dog also had four dogs, which is against Westland City Ordinance. But the owner was issued no ticket. Another example of not wanting to be bothered.

And the owner of the dog wanted the dog back knowing what it had done to my child. He has three children of his own. And at that time there were 28 children on this street under the age of 13.

I live on a dead end street with 12 houses. People just don't care.

Come to find out after my son was attacked, my neighbors had spoken up. The dog had bit and drew blood on two other children. And there was reports filed.

It took my son to be scared for life for something to be done. My son has six large zapped scars on the right side of his face. I'm sure there are a lot of cases that are worse. And we have a lot to be grateful for. My son is alive!

But my child never hurt anyone. And he did not deserve the pain and suffering he went through.

I'm mad and I'm angry. I want something done about these dogs and I refuse to stop until someone listens to me. And until something is done, I want to protect that next innocent child!

I want to thank you for listening. Maybe you can help me to solve this problem. And thank you for the opportunity to speak up.

Cherry Hill band
marches on

EDITOR — On May 14th Cherry Hill's High School Band boarded two buses to make their bi-annual trip. The trip to play in the Worlds Fair parade Sunday, May 16th - 5 p.m. This trip was sponsored by Band Boosters and students working two years, selling fruit, candy, pop corn and big bake sales.

I want to say we're very proud of our band and everyone involved.

Firs night we stayed at Best Western, Nashville, traveled to Operaland U.S.A. Quite similar to Cedar Point in amusements but with Music of the South, very much in evidence. We were also lucky to get tickets to Grand Old Opera. It was on radio too and we all enjoyed this program in a huge opera house.

On to Knoxville that night where we all stayed in Winnebago Village. At around 10 Sunday morning we again boarded buses to go to the fair. (about 15 mile ride) There was free time until 3:30 when the Bandsman met and dressed for the 5 o'clock parade. The day had been hot—high 80 degrees. Dark clouds formed and light sprinkles began to fall as students assembled in parade formation. Worlds Fair personnel said it could cancel the parade but 63 spirited Cherry Hill Bandsmen and their director Mr. Harvey Schreiber agreed in unison. We rode 12 hours to get here to play in the parade and we will not be rained out.

As the drums announced the beginning of the parade, two Pom-Pom girls stepped forth carrying the Cherry Hill Band Banner, followed by the Pom-Pom girls.

Then, baton group in shiny new uniforms—followed the spirited high stepping Spartan Band. Flag girls decorated each side of the formation.

And it was raining — it was pouring and the band played on, amid cheers from over 90 thousand — a fair record day. By the way our band was the only band to fulfill a promise to the parade — and after the parade was over the bandsmen assembled under a make shift canopy and gave their chaperons an impromptu concert of their favorite tunes and the proud director was seen happy, but tears flowed down his face. We are all proud of these students who brought honor to Cherry Hill.

Cherry Hill Band has been invited back in September to parade again.

Thank You CHHS Band!

Sounds of living things, people

Outside my window the birds are singing, the church bells are ringing and there is a gentle breeze blowing my curtains inward. I love spring mornings, when the sun is shining and the air is balmy.

I was sitting here at my desk, knowing I had a column to write, yet paying more attention to the sounds from outside, and thinking how I must get a heavy duty cord that could reach from the indoors to the outdoors, so I could take my typewriter out on the picnic table, when the sound of the doorbell peeled through the house.

"Hello, Mrs. Hagelthorn," the handsome, dark-eyed young man said grinning through the screen door at me. "You sure look good."

Sixty-four years I have lived, and yet I was thrown momentarily speechless when this beautiful kid said I looked good. I was speechless because I was standing there with my hair rumpled from running my hand through it trying to stimulate my brain, and my robe hanging morosely from my shoulders.

And I didn't know who he was. Six foot three, dark haired and dark eyes. Who could this stranger be... this handsome young man telling me I looked good.

And then he flashed his grin again, and I grabbed the door pushing it open and yelling, "Hello Johnny! My gosh how you have grown."

Which was an understatement, since the last time I saw him he was only about six inches tall. Well, maybe a little taller, since he was about eight years old, the skinniest little kid on the street, with the longest legs which he used as a spring board as he went flying over neighbor's hedges and flowers, and shinnied up trees, and about the time someone was threatening to chop him up in bits, he would turn that wide, beautiful grin on them... and escape.

There was a time, (when some of the neighbors, whose kids had all grown up were thinking of other things besides how little boys are) that Johnny and my youngest son were suspected of everything that went wrong in the neighborhood.

There was the time when a voluptuous nude woman was crudely painted at the very top of a very high garage.

"David did it," one oldtimer said, puffing away at his pipe to keep his top from blowing off. That was because his back porch faced right up to the picture on the garage. And it had probably been a long time since he had drawn pictures on empty spaces.

"I don't think David did it," I said. "He's only three feet tall..."

"He stood on Johnny's shoulders," the old geezer puffed. "Can Johnny paint?" someone asked.

"Who knows," the old geezer responded. "My vote is that David did it, but Johnny helped."

Being a really good mother I wanted to punch the old guy right in the kisser, but I didn't. I went home instead, and found my kid laying on the floor looking at a Playboy magazine he had found between the mattresses of his older brother's bed. When he saw me, he shoved the magazine under the sofa and rolled over, stretching and yawning, trying to pretend he had been asleep.

"Hey David," I said. "Did you draw the naked lady on the garage across the street?"

"The what?" he shouted. "The naked lady on the garage across the street..." I had barely finished the sentence when that kid was out of the house and across the street.

A half hour later he came back. "Wow, that's neat," he said. "That's better than those magazines Allan's got."

is not, as some people would like to think, a communist plot. Nor is it a plot to decay the morals of our children. It is simply the way things should be in a complex society such as ours. Prayers have become denominational discourses instead of private pleas, as they were originally intended.

If you decide to end a public prayer with "...we ask in Jesus' name..." you have made the prayer offensive to a whole group of people who don't believe in Jesus: If you leave that part out, you have made the prayer null and void to another group who believe a prayer isn't a prayer unless you mention Jesus' name.

Prayers don't belong in public places. If I had my way, I would bar prayers and mentions of God from sporting events, beauty contests and awards ceremonies.

If you think separation of church and state is sacrilege, consider for a moment the football player who thanks God for giving his team the point-spread they needed.

Or the beauty contest winner who says God is really the one

JOYCE HAGELTHORN

"Did you do it?" I asked. "I can't reach that high," he said. "But I could probably do it if I did it lower."

"Who do you think did it?" "Probably some giant..."

"Someone said maybe Johnny did it, do you think Johnny could do it?"

"Nawww, he can't reach that high. Hey, wait. Johnny can jump about that high. He can jump practically up to the sky. I'll bet ole Johnny could jump up there and make a swish, and then jump again, and make another swish..." Hey, Johnny," and he was off like a streak of lightning.

Now here was Johnny, tall and handsome and courteous, with that beautiful, flashing grin, telling me he was taking pre-med.

And David is a graduate photographer, living in California with his bride. Tall, and handsome with that aura of success around him.

And the old geezer is still sitting on his porch telling how awful the kids of today are.

"You jest caint trust 'em," he'll say. "Kids sure aren't like they was when I was a kid." Well, now...

MONA GRIGG

who should take credit for her crown. He answered her prayers.

Or the "Tony"-winning producers of a Broadway musical who thank God for giving them the little statues they hold in their hands.

Now, really!

Does it mean God turned his back on the other team, the other contestants, the other producers? Didn't they pray hard enough?

What must God be thinking?

A prayer, as Jesus said in the Sermon on the Mount, should be a private thing: "...when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen by men..." enter into thy closet, and when thou has shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret.

To that I can only add, "Amen".

mona grigg

Prayer...it's a private thing

There's probably too much controversy going on these days over whether or not prayers should start the school day off.

It's one of those controversies that thrives on so much hot air. If anybody thought to ask the kids in question—the ones who would be doing the praying—my guess is hardly a one of them cares about it, one way or the other.

A recitation is a recitation, regardless of who wants to make a mountain out of it. If you say the same words over and over again, pretty soon that's all they are. Words.

When I was in parochial school, we had an hour of religion in the morning and a half-hour at the end of the day. We said Grace at lunchtime and the Lord's Prayer at dismissal.

The half-hour reserved for the end of the day was to see if we had memorized the required passages out of our catechisms. Most of the time we hadn't. On purpose.

Because if we knew it by heart, our minister/teacher would ask us what it meant. That was dirty pool, as far as we were concerned. It was enough we had to memorize the words without also having to worry about what they meant.

It was the same way with the prayers. Saving "The Lord's Prayer" for the end of the day was a pity, considering, from this vantage point now, what a beautiful prayer it really is.

By the time we go to "...for thine is the kingdom and the power and glory forever and ever, Amen", the words were so strung together they might as well have been Sanskrit, for all anyone could make of them. The only thing those words meant to us, as kids, was that after we said "Amen", we got to leave.

And, as much as we would like to think otherwise, it would be the same today. Kids are kids and a recitation is a recitation.

The only way to make the prayers more meaningful would be to spend time interpreting what they meant. Then we would be teaching "religion".

And how would we decide whose interpretation to use? Which religion, which church would win?

What if I, as a parent, didn't agree with the interpretation being taught my child?

Poison Ivy-Love it or leave it

Editor's Note: Dr. Ernest Sorini is chief of Emergency Room Services at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne. He did his internship and residency at the University of Utah Medical Center and has been in emergency medicine for five years. If you have questions for Dr. Sorini contact him care of Associated Newspapers Inc., P.O. Box 578, Wayne, Michigan 48184.

By DR. ERNEST SORINI
Ah, summer—the days of barbecues and swimming pools; frisbees and softball; insect bites and chemical dermatitis.

Chemical dermatitis or dermatitis Venenata (thanks to dermatologists with Latin ancestors) is a chemical inflammation of the skin which results from contact with any number of irritants either animal or vegetable. However, the most common irritant of skin in the summer months seems to be contact with either poison ivy, poison oak, or poison sumac.

Since the inflammatory dermatitis of poison ivy, oak, and sumac result from touching the resin of the plant, you can imagine that the areas which are infected worst are probably hands and forearms, but I will allow your imaginations to read between the lines to figure out some of the other areas of the body both mentionable and unmentionable that are affected after an affected patient begins touching parts of his or her body. (Remember that the symptoms don't appear until after 12 hours after contact with the resin because the reaction is basically a delayed hypersensitivity reaction which requires about 12 hours to start.)

Because dermatitis Venenata

of the Rhus-Toxicodendron (Rhus-Toxicodendron is the specific inflammation that results from contact with the resin of poison ivy, oak, or sumac) variety is caused by contact with an irritant, it is not a contagious disease and you need not stand more than 1 centimeter (1/2 inch) from an afflicted patient, because there is no chance that the "disease" will be spread to you.

In case of poison sumac, in particular, there seems to be a propensity for the development of a lot of swelling around the eyes and face, giving the afflicted patient the look of having just been in a small argument with Thomas Hearn. Not to worry — this like the other Rhus-Toxicodendron dermatitis problems usually takes only about 5-7 days to clear.

The treatment involves the topical application of a steroid-like 1% hydrocortisone cream and the simultaneous administration of oral steroids-like hydrocortisone or Prednisone.

Infrequently, there may be a superimposed bacterial infection because of the constant itching and scratching of the tormented patient. However, this is usually easily handled by the use of oral penicillin or similar drugs.

The bottom line is "Poison Ivy — don't love it and leave it alone".

Legal Aid

Thank you, Dear Lord

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Brian A. Walters is an Attorney at Law engaged in the general practice of law in Van Buren Township. He is a 1977 graduate of Oakland University and received his Juris Doctorate from Detroit College of Law in 1980. While attending law school he clerked for the Chief Judge of the 14th District Court and worked for the Consumer Protection Agency of Wayne County. If you have legal questions, please write Mr. Walters in care of Associated Newspapers, Inc., 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Michigan. His column will appear weekly in the ANP editions).

By BRIAN A. WALTERS
Last week I ended my article with the question, "What will happen next week?" Let me tell you what happened. The Pre-Trial was scheduled for 9 a.m. in downtown Detroit. I arrived in plenty of time and waited for my client to come. He had not yet arrived, the Judge took the bench and proceeded with other matters.

About 9:30 a.m. he enters the courtroom; he had been waiting in the wrong courtroom. The judge then adjourns until noon to attend a funeral service.

I had to make a few other stops so I decided to do them now. I began walking. Where? You guessed it, to the Buhl Building, 19th floor. I did my business and left the building about 10:30 a.m.

I made another stop, had a bite to eat then proceeded back to court. I went right past the Buhl

Building at 11:30 a.m. I was at the corner of Congress and Griswold when I saw numerous police cars and a crowd, then I heard it. A gunshot! What is happening, I thought? A sniper? I prayed. Someone in the crowd said, "Go out there if you want to but that was a gunshot."

I quickly crossed the street, went about two blocks, then watched the police and firemen in action. I watched the rescue of six people from the 8th floor of the now burning building. Smoke was pouring out the windows.

I prayed some more for a safe rescue. The ladder on the fire truck only reached to the 7th floor. Another ladder was placed on top of this to reach the 8th floor. It was 11:55 a.m. so I left and went back to court.

Thank you Lord for keeping me safe. I would have been in that building about the time of the fire if my client had not gone to the wrong courtroom and the Judge did not have to go to a funeral service.

It was tragic what happened. Being an Attorney is not all glory.

Pray for the families of those injured and for the family of Eve August, who was killed. Again, thank you Lord.

Farmers should certify their crops by July 1

Have you finished planting this year's crop?

If your planting is done, remember to stop into the ASCS Office to report your planted crops by July 1st. If you are participating you must report your acreage.

Should you come in if you are not going to participate in the acreage reduction program?

"Yes", according to Earl Doletsky, Chairman of the Washtenaw County ASCS Committee, "Certifying will keep your history credit updated." Many farmers have discovered in this past year history credit can be important for another year's program.

Doletsky stressed that farmers should come in and certify before the deadline of July 1st.

Koons awarded Pilgrim degree

Wilbur E. Koons of Belleville was recently awarded the highest degree of the Loyal Order of Moose, the Pilgrim Degree.

The award was presented during a ceremony held in Mooseheart, a community established and supported by the fraternity for needy children.

Koons, a member of Moose Lodge 782, was awarded the Pilgrim Degree of Merit for his "outstanding service and continued devotion to the humanitarian programs of the Fraternity."

Koons was one of 193 Moose members from the United States, Canada, and Great Britain to receive the award. The Pilgrim Degree is coveted but only one of every 5,000 members receives the degree each year.

Investiture of the Pilgrim class, sponsored by Herbert W. Heilman, Director General of the Loyal Order of Moose, was held in the House of God located on the Mooseheart campus. The ceremony is presided by Pilgrim Governor Paul P. Schmitz.

And here they are . . .

Nobody ever said this was going to be easy...and easy it wasn't. How do you choose 12 dads from candidates with credentials like those we received in response to our request for models for our special tribute to fathers?

We were flooded with candidates, and nominations are still pouring in — some from as far away as California and some from very influential people. We rolled up our sleeves, took a deep breath and plunged in, reading letters from wives and children that touched our hearts and our funny bones.

Anyone who thinks Dads are not appreciated, or understood, by their children ought to read some of the comments we perused. How about the man who rides his motorcycle in the rain so mom can have the car — or the husband, after four children and 15 grandchildren who is still, to his wife, "an angel I'm glad I married."

Then there was the stepfather who "has always treated me as his own son and is always there whenever he is needed," and "when mom is sick, he knows how to be mother and father both."

We also met a man who treats his 86-year old mother-in-law as his own mother, "words cannot adequately describe the magnitude of his generosity and caring for his family."

But our all-time favorite is the man with the sure-fire key to children's hearts. "He lets us have milk and gram (sic) crackers after 9 p.m., he works hard for us so we can keep the house, he fixes our bikes, we look just like him and... 'He is going to dress up as Miss Piggy in the Strawberry Festival Parade — and that makes us laugh.'"

Need we say more?
Happy Fathers' Day!

A car-top boat unit is popular

By BOB BREWSTER
Special to Playtime

Two thousand years from now a historian studying the dusty records of 20th Century boat builders will come to the conclusion that we liked small boats. And it's true.

The majority of the boats we use are 16 feet or less in length, and most of these are suitable for transporting atop a car.

There's a good reason for our interest in car-top boats, for owning one brings a lot of advantages with it. Boating authorities say that the car-top boat is popular because it is inexpensive to buy and use, plus easy to transport and store.

Car-top boats are light enough in weight to be easily loaded by two people, and there are some which can be handled by one person. A set of inexpensive roof carriers transports the boat from home to water.

A unique advantage of having a car-top boat is the ability to go on small streams and ponds which are not suitable for access by large trailer boats. No launching ramp is needed, and water depth is not a limiting factor.

Storing a car-top boat is simple. Lift it off the vehicle and place it on the ground. It's wise to put blocks of wood under the bow and transom to keep the boat free of dirt, but nothing else is needed.

Ready for a run

Participants in the Five Mile Road Race sponsored by the Westland fire fighters on July 3 will receive an official race T-shirt compliments of Wayne Med-Mart in Westland. Showing off the prize for all competitors is Capt. Ken Sharp (left).

Stray Cats hit the states

THE STRAY CATS
"Built For Speed"
(EMI)

Well, as they say, better late than never. Especially when it comes to the Stray Cats, three native New Yorkers who single-handedly spearheaded a rockabilly revival in England that's been the rage for going on two years now.

Previously available only as imports, the Stray Cats' records are every bit as good as the band is live, which is great. Six encores at last year's show at Ann Arbor's Second Chance is testimony to that.

"Built For Speed" is a compilation of cuts from "Stray Cats" and "Gonna Ball," their second English LP. And while it's a fine collection of songs, there's just no reason why both of their albums were held back stateside.

The three Stray Cats are (as per the sleeve): Brian Setzer, Strummin' & Croonin'; Slim Jim Phantom, Bangin' & Yellin'; and Lee Rocker, Slappin' & Howlin'. Setzer is a master guitarist and takes complete control of the songs, while Slim Jim drums the night away and Lee Rocker rides his stand-up bass straight to hell.

The songs are all good, but if "Rock This Town" isn't released as a single, then heads should roll at EMI records. "Rumble In Brighton" is another winner, as anyone who saw the band on "Friday's" will testify to.

But the live show stopper is "Stray Cat Strut," with it's almost jazzy feel and blues bass, where Brian gives the band's philosophy in a few simple words: "We got cat class and we got class style." I, for one, think they'll always land on their feet.

The Michigan Student Film Festival provides young filmmakers with a rare opportunity to have their work seen by a large audience, and such was the case for five students in the media class of teacher Helen Law at St. Mary's School in Wayne. The students' production of "A Scary Space Movie" was selected as a first division film in the festival and was among the films shown recently in the 13th annual Michigan Student Film Festival, held in Friends Auditorium of the Detroit Public Library. The young film "stars" included Claude LaMothe (from left), 14 and a ninth grader; Anitra Davis, 12 and a seventh grader; Bill Shenkel, 13, and an eighth grader; Marlene Kowalski, 13 and a seventh grader; and Michelle Bastion, 12 and a seventh grader. — ANP photo.

Omega Restaurant

Daily specials featured at this 24-hour establishment

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

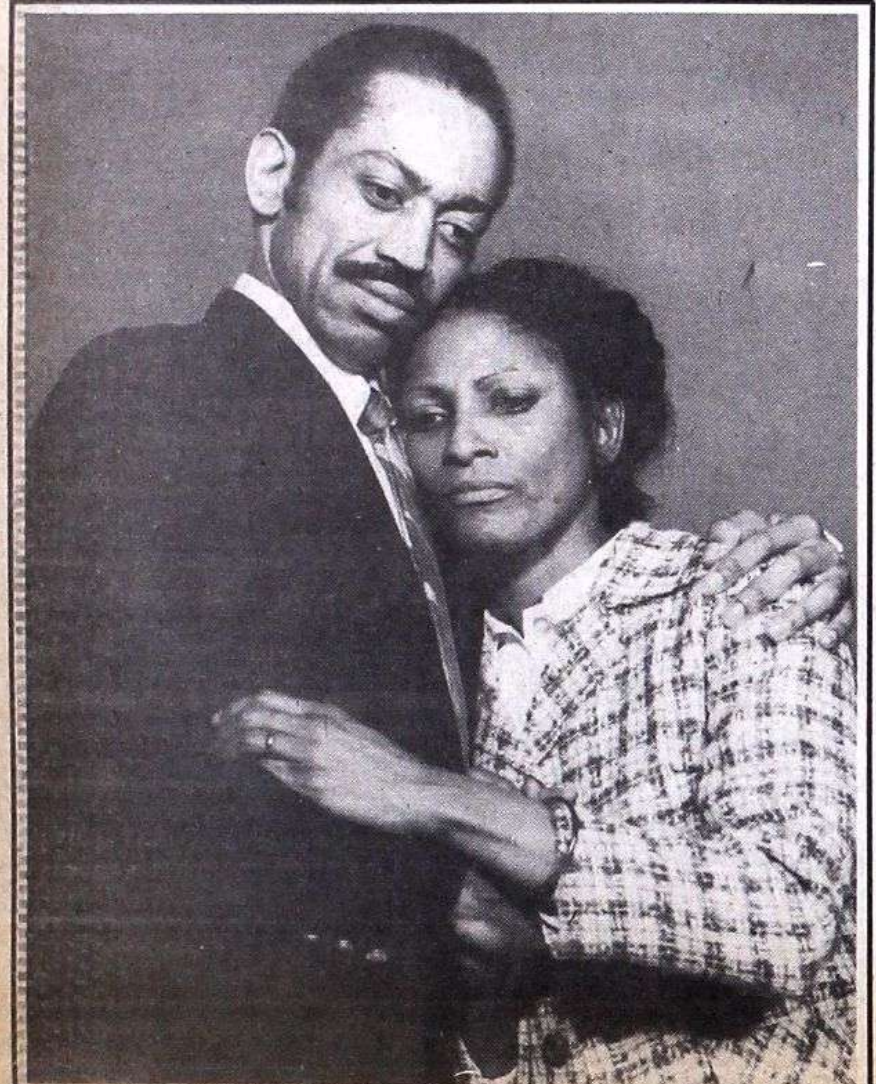

"I eat at the Omega" was the message on his T-shirt. And Sadik Gocaj can wear that T-shirt with pride. As owner of the Omega Restaurant in downtown Wayne, Gocaj helps in the preparation of all the food along with his wife, Cym, and brother, Mike. That in itself is quite an achievement since all of the items on the Omega menu are homemade rather than of the pre-packaged variety. "I'm here seven days a week," said Gocaj, taking an afternoon break from slicing some corned beef and roast beef for the dinner crowd. "Our customers tell us that they like the fact that the quality of our food doesn't change. It's always the same." What does change is the daily special, served from 11 a.m. till 11 p.m. Most of these entrees include homemade bread, butter, tossed salad or cup of soup and jello. The featured specials are: tenderloin beef tips over noodles ($3.45) and stuffed cabbage ($2.95) on Mondays; stuffed green pepper ($2.95) and Salisbury steak ($2.95), Tuesdays; short ribs ($3.45), fish and chips ($2.95) and spaghetti ($2.95), Wednesdays; meat loaf ($2.95) and veal parmigiana ($3.25), Thursdays; lasagna ($2.85), fish and chips ($2.95), ocean perch ($3.95) and two pieces of fish and macaroni ($3.25), Fridays; baked ham ($3.45) and smelt

($2.95), Saturdays, and roast turkey and dressing ($3.95) and roast beef ($3.95), Sundays. Located at 34844 Michigan Ave. West, the Omega Restaurant also offers discounts on selected entrees not included among the scheduled specials. On this particular day the breaded pork chop dinner was reduced to $2.95 and the danish melt (two beef patties with blue cheese inside and topped with mushrooms, sweet onion and chives) and soup combination was priced at $1.95. Diners can call the restaurant at 722-3170 to find out the daily features. "We have three different soups every day," explained Gocaj, who was born in Yugoslavia and now resides in Canton, "and chili, made from a special recipe." The Omega Restaurant is open 24 hours a day and offers an extensive breakfast menu (served anytime), deluxe sandwiches, steaks and chops, seafood and low-calorie entrees. A children's menu also is available. "My family is dedicated to making the restaurant a success," Gocaj declared. If his perseverance pays off, you'll be seeing more "I eat at the Omega" T-shirts around town.

Von Washington and Teri Phillips appear as Martin Luther King Jr. and his wife, Coretta, in Donald Howard's award-winning play, "King, Junior" at the Hilberry Theatre through June 26. 'Henrietta' opens at Ford Museum Theater

The wheelers and dealers on "Dallas" would have to take a back seat to the villainous Wall Street manipulators in Bronson Howard's comedy-melodrama "The Henrietta," opening June 18 at Henry Ford Museum Theater. The play runs Fridays and Saturdays through July 24 at 8:30 p.m. (Tickets are $4.75). A dinner theater program is offered and includes dinner at Heritage Hall and a performance of the play for $16.50. Reservations are required and can be made by calling 271-1620, ext. 415.

scrupulous methods to win the hand of a pretty widow. The "wild" and wayward brother Bertie must come through to save the day. The play is a humorous look at the robber barons of the late 19th century as action moves from the elegant Vanalstynne mansion to the hectic office of a Wall Street brokerage.

News on our grads

Residents travel to West Coast, Louisiana for college graduations

A graduate of Belleville High School in 1976, Sheila Joy Menish, nee Stabnau, of Redondo Beach, Calif. was among those receiving degrees June 12 from California State University. Prior to her marriage she had attended Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti. Mrs. Menish earned her bachelor's degree in business administration. The daughter of Harvey and Elaine Stabnau of Belleville, she is employed at TRW Enterprises.

Flying out to the West Coast for the ceremonies along with the Stabnaus were the graduate's brother and sister-in-law, Craig and Karen Stabnau, also of Belleville.

Pat Gage is WCCC graduate

Returning to school after an absence of 20 years took a lot of incentive and "stick-to-itiveness" but Pat Gage of Belleville not only earned a high school diploma but a college degree as well.

In 1978 she enrolled in the Plymouth Canton High School Adult Education Program and three years later had her diploma. And come June 20, she will be among those presented degrees at Wayne County Community College, hers being an associate in registered nursing.

She won't be the only college grad in the family, however, since in December her son, Bill Gage, hopes to be awarded a bachelor of arts degree in psychology and sociology from the University of Michigan. A 1978 Belleville High School alumnus, he hopes to enter law school in 1982.

Among those in the audience to see Mrs. Gage receive her degree were her parents, Tom Burton and Mr. and Mrs. William Michalek, all of Flint; her mother-in-law, Mrs. Eleanor Gage of Bad Ax, and her two sons, Bill of Ypsilanti and Bryan of Ann Arbor.

MRS. GAGE

Degrees given at Mich Tech

Michigan Technological University awarded some 1200 degrees at spring commencement May 22. Dr. William N. Hubbard, President of the Upjohn Company of Kalamazoo, delivered the commencement address.

Lower Peninsula recipients included two Belleville residents, Pamela E. Bishop, who earned a bachelor of science degree in business administration, and Michael J. Burek, a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering.

Graduates from the Romulus area included Suzanne R. Block, who was awarded a bachelor of science in biological sciences; Suzanne R. Orgovan, a bachelor of science in medical technology and Glen E. Summers, a bachelor of science in forestry.

RHS grad earns degree

Margaret Abdo Zimmerman, a former Romulus resident, was awarded a bachelor of science degree in nursing recently at the University of Southwestern Louisiana at Lafayette. Having attained high grades and making the Dean's List every semester, Mrs. Zimmerman finished with a 3.2 average and will now be working in a Louisiana hospital.

A 1974 graduate of Romulus High School, the new RN is married to another RHS alumnus, Frank Zimmerman, (a commercial diver who works around the globe) and is the mother of one daughter, Carrie Ann.

Traveling to Louisiana to see their daughter graduate were Mr. and Mrs. George Abdo of Romulus who made the trip with their daughter, Edith Stockdale and sons, David and Richard.

Toni Simonds to present vocal recital June 20

Toni M. Simonds, soprano, will be presented in full vocal recital June 20 at Calvary Baptist Church, 11338 Ozga Rd., Romulus.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olin W. Simonds of Sunrise Lane, Belleville, Miss Simonds was a finalist in the National Teens Involved, sponsored by Word of Life. She will be competing with teens from the United States and Canada July 24-31 at Schroon Lake, N.Y. Kim Fields of Belleville will be her accompanist.

Recipient of the Lester McCoy Music Award from Belleville High School, Miss Simonds was a member of The Ambassadors for two years, competed in both regional and state music festivals, was manager and student conductor for the Belleville Concert Choir and had the honor of conducting the combined choir and concert band at the BHS baccalaureate service June 8.

A member of Calvary Baptist Church Choir, under the direction of Grover Kahl, she has sung several cantatas and many soloist works. She will be attending Arlington Baptist College in Arlington, Tex. where she plans to major in music and christian education.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD G. LUCH

Luch-Cilia nuptials read at St. Anthony's

The newly wed Richard G. Luchs are making their home on Lighthouse Drive in Belleville following their two-week honeymoon in Orlando, Fla. and Northern Michigan.

Lu Ellen Cilia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Cilia Jr. of 47940 Hull Rd., Belleville, became Mrs. Luch in a May 1 ceremony at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The Rev. Raymond Skoney presided at the four o'clock rite; Pat Fleming was organist and Jerri Kay Salyer, soloist for the double ring nuptials.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride appeared in a candlelight gown designed with a Queen Anne neckline, full chiffon sleeves and a lace-draped chiffon skirt.

She wore a matching hat with a lace-trimmed silk illusion veil attached and held cascading roses, miniature carnations and lilacs to complete her bridal finery.

Cathy Thomas of Belleville was her sister's matron of honor. Two other sisters, Cheryl Kozub of Livonia and Sue Cilia of Ann Arbor, comprised the bridal coterie along with Dawn Wallace of Ypsilanti and Mary Estrada of Ann Arbor.

Identically dressed, the quintet wore full-length white frocks imprinted with a small floral design. White lace gloves and bouquets of spider mums, daisies and miniature carnations complimented the off-shoulder gowns.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Luch of 32718 Vermont, Livonia, the bridegroom chose his brother, Daniel Luch of Royal Oak, to serve as best man. Groomsmen were four more brothers, Tom, Michael, David and Tim Luch, all of Livonia.

At the Karas House in Redford, where the reception was held, the 180 guests were greeted by Mrs. Cilia in a navy and white gown and Mrs. Luch in a peach ensemble. Both mothers were honored with white orchid corsages.

The new Mrs. Luch, a 1976 Belleville High School graduate, is employed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. Her husband, a 1976 alumnus of Livonia Churchill High School, attended Henry Ford Community College and is now with World Wide Equipment in Dearborn.

Marge Emerson new prez of Women's Study Club

The private dining room at Denny's Restaurant in Lakewood Shopping Center was the scene of the annual dinner of the Women's Study Club of Belleville June 9.

Installation of officers for the 1982-84 club years was the highlight of the evening with Mary Claire Ellward as the installing officer. As she read the formidable tasks of each officer, she softened the words by presenting each officer with a red rose. Arlene Smith, outgoing president, also received a rose.

Installed were Marguerite Emerson, president; Onalee Wall, vice-president; Winnifred Gault, recording secretary; Yvonne Harner, treasurer; and Lucille Touse, corresponding secretary.

Prior to the ceremony a period of reminiscing by long-time members Doris Roe, Ina Lunde, Arlene Smith, Madelyn Blend, Marge Jahr, Lucille Touse, and Grace Mullread took place.

It's become obvious that anyone who hits the ol' shopping trail — be it grocery, fashion, home furnishings, gift oriented — he or she is looking for a bargain. I don't hear anyone bragging about paying full price or taking a first estimate anymore; instead the trend is to boast just a bit about "the buy" one finds, right? And it's not just the economy causing this trend, I think it's the plain, old-fashioned "smarts" setting in!

So for an opener this week, yours truly is gonna share a few cost-savers with you; things she and acquaintances have tried and found to be as good-or-better-than the marketed item.

A former advocate of commercial stain and spot removers, I've since gone to a mix-it-yourself pre-wash blend I found in a magazine and find it's super — easy to put together and very effective. Here's the simple formula:

- 1/2 cup ammonia
- 1/2 cup liquid detergent
- 1/2 cup water

And it costs mere pennies compared to Brand A.

IF YOU'RE A ranch dressing buff and missed clipping the recipe for a make-yourself version, I'm telling you, you're spending unnecessary big change for the little packages. This is really for those of you with a well-stocked herb and spice pantry, however, since purchasing all the ingredients without other uses for them can push up that cash register tape plenty. But — it's also a good way for you novice cooks to learn different ways to dress up foods other than with table salt.

The following recipe is one I found a few moons ago and with which I improvised until I had it to our liking. And it's not only great for green salads but between Lee at the Chamber and Lee at the Enterprise, we've come up with several other uses: in sour cream or mayo-based dips; in cream cheese for stuffing celery; on fried or baked potatoes; in creamed cucumbers; in bloody Marys (just a tad); mixed with melted butter for garlic toast or popcorn; on vegetables in place of table salt.

Make up double or triple batches of the stuff and keep it cool and dry in an airtight container.

LEE'S RANCH-STYLE DRESSING MIX

- 1 scant tablespoon salt
- 2 teaspoons monosodium glutamate (optional)
- 2 teaspoons dried parsley flakes, crushed
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon onion powder
- 1/2 teaspoon dill weed
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon paprika

To reconstitute: Combine 2 tablespoons mix with 2 cups mayonnaise and 2 cups milk; buttermilk if you have it on hand. Mix well. Chill.

BY ALL MEANS, now that el sol is honoring us with his presence, make "Sun Tea" (or Solar Tea as the ecologists dub it.) Simply add about six or eight teabags (the strength you prefer) to two quarts cold water in a glass jar or pitcher, cover with a plastic bag or plastic wrap and set in the sun for four or five hours. Remove bags, chill liquid and pour over the rocks for a delicious summer drink. Think of all the kilowatts you're saving by using natural energy!

WHEN GREEN PEPPERS are out of season and at their highest price, look over the "reduced produce" in the market. You'll often find peppers with slight bruises or perhaps a small spot that can be cut out. Even if you've no need for them at the moment, clean 'em, cut 'em in quarters and freeze in plastic bags until you DO. They're often more than half-off this way.

IF YOU'RE ADAMANT about using a brand-name bleach, better switch your thinking. There's absolutely no difference in the varieties since all are required to contain 5.25 percent hypochlorite.

THE LAST FOR GEMINI

Geminians who've been front stage, center for the past few columns, will be bowing out in a few more days but until then, here's still more about your personality (according to the horoscopic experts, that is.)

While you probably know more people than a politician at election time, you have very few really close friends since, despite your outgoing facade, you are not really very easy to get close to. Although your laughter and gaiety could light up a room, you're a lot lonelier than most people think. Behind your compulsive chatter (and you ARE a talker), there is a person whose emotions have a hard time coming out.

Those who DO have you as a good friend, though, find that you are staunch and loyal, generous and thoughtful. They should realize that you expect the same qualities in return and should they gossip behind your back or try to intimidate you, you will cool toward that relationship in a hurry. You very much need that pat-on-the-back for your good deeds and giving nature and, being somewhat of a stickler where etiquette is concerned, deem a "thank you" the least a person can say.

You have a tendency to cut people dead who may have offended you and can hold a grudge for years — you may forgive, but you never, never forget.

Being a responsible person, you feel strongly that people should pull their own weight and have no patience with/or use for freeloaders, whiners, hypochondriacs and others of that ilk. Should you be in a supervisory position, your underlings will find it tough having you for a boss since you expect them to anticipate your wishes.

Geminians are the zodiac's worst procrastinators and will put off doing a chore or assignment to the very last minute. But — once underway, the job is done well.

You have a rough time dealing with today's "easy" morality since you tend to be a bit puritanical in your standards. What "everyone else is doing" has absolutely no bearing on your life.

And we might wonder if the following famous people have these virtues and vices — Richard (John Boy) Thomas, for instance — the father of triplets, by the way — who was 31 years old June 13. The late comedian Paul Lynde would have been 56 that day.

Born 10 years apart, Burl Ives and Dorothy McGuire had their 73rd and 63rd birthdays, respectively, on June 14.

Waylon Jennings was 45 yesterday and the late Jack (Chico and the Man) Albertson would have been 72 today, June 16.

Singers Barry Manilow and Dean Martin share a June natal date with Ralph Bellamy — the trio turning 36, 65 and 78, respectively, on the 17th.

Kay Kyser, whose "College of Musical Knowledge" was a biggie sometime back, will be 77, E. G. Marshall, 72, and Paul McCartney, 40, on the 18th while Louis Jourdan and Gena Rowlands bring up the Gemini rear and will be 61 and 37, respectively, June 19.

THE BOTTOM LINE: The college graduate's first big discovery is that jobs are often handed out by old fogies like his dad.

MR. AND MRS. GORDON M. ECCLES

Faith Wesleyan Church scene of May wedding

Faith Wesleyan Church in Rockford, Ill., was the setting May 8 for the double ring rite which united Linda S. Arvidson and Gordon M. Eccles in holy matrimony. The young couple exchanged vows and wedding bands before The Rev. Gregory L. Carlson and some 140 relatives and friends at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Arvidson of 402 Biester Dr., Belvidere, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Eccles of 9445 Van Buren, Belleville, are parents of the newlyweds who are now making their home at 1561 S. Congress, Apt. 18, Ypsilanti.

She wore a lace picture hat trimmed with tulle and pearls and carried a cascade of dusty rose carnations, red sweetheart roses, baby's breath and lilies of the valley.

Suede rose gowns with asymmetrically draped empire bodices and one-shoulder styling were chosen for the bridal coterie headed by honor attendant, Cindy Erickson of Rockford. Similarly dressed, wearing matching hats and holding bouquets of carnations, stephanotis and baby's breath were Lynda Finch of Madison, Wisc.; Sherri Bullock of Washington, D. C. and Lorna Woodall of St. Louis, Mo.

Youngsters in the wedding party were David Sanford and Tina Studer, both of Rockford.

Rod Eccles of Mooresville, Ind. was his cousin's best man. Groomsman included Steve Eccles of Belleville and Larry Arvidson of Belvidere, brothers of the bridal pair, and Gary Mulholland of Inkster. Ushers were Ken Eccles of Belleville and Phil Eccles of Mooresville, Ind., brother and cousin of the bridegroom, respectively.

Mrs. Arvidson chose for her daughter's wedding a pale pink gown with a matching jacket to which she pinned her corsage of white sweetheart roses and burgundy blooms.

Following a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the newlyweds departed for a week-long honeymoon in Northern Michigan.

A graduate of Belvidere High School, the new Mrs. Eccles attended Greenville College in Greenville, Ill. as did her new husband, a Belleville High School alumnus currently attending Eastern Michigan University. He is employed at the operations center of Michigan National Bank in Livonia.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, was held at the Godfather's in Rockford, Ill.

Belleville bows in 1st round of regional playoffs

Road to success ends for Tigers

The astonishing Tigers left the road to playoff success Saturday as Great Lakes 8 Conference representative, Monroe, handed Belleville and Coach Tom Fielder a tournament-ousting 6-2 defeat in the first round of the Clas A regional playoffs.

With the district crown neatly stashed away, Belleville's Tigers couldn't stop the Trojans who pounded out 10 hits to inflict the fourth loss in 12 starts on lefty Larry Petrowski's record.

Petrowski went the distance and was even staked to a 1-0 top of the second inning lead before the Trojans fought back and tied it up at 1-all in the third, then went on to score two times in the fourth and sixth innings.

Belleville scored its final run of the game, season and 1982 campaign when Petrowski hammered a solo homer in the last frame. The hard-hitting Tiger slugger also figured in the team's second inning run. He chased home Jeff Morris thanks to a sacrifice fly. Morris had gotten aboard on a walk, was wild pitched to second and advanced to third on a groundout.

"We played fairly decent ball," said Fielder whose Tigers brought the curtains down on an even .500 season (11-11). "I felt that there were times we could have played better, but then this team showed it has a lot of class by being in all of the games they played."

"We were just happy to be in the regionals and win the district title," Fielder added.

Petrowski would up his prep career with an 8-4 record. In his final appearance on the mound as a prep he notched four strikeouts and walked three, while pitching a 10-hitter. The Tigers got three hits but committed three errors.

Plymouth Canton jolted Monroe 6-4 in the finals to capture the regional championship staged at Wyandotte Memorial Field. Coach Fred Crissey's ball club had humbled an excellent Garden City East squad 6-0 in the first round.

Canton's Don Dombey drilled a three-run homer to put the game on ice for the Chiefs and send them into the state semi-finals scheduled to be played last night.

Canton will take an enviable 24-4 record into the semis.

The cost for the camp is $90. All camp participants will receive free jerseys.

SVSC softball letter award goes to Smith

Saginaw Valley State College junior Jane Shaffer, an Allen Park Cabrini High School graduate, was named the Lady Cardinals' Best Defensive Player, while senior Janice Smith, a New Boston Huron High School graduate, received her four-year varsity award, announced SVSC's head coach Sue Guevara this week.

Shaffer, collecting 60 put outs and assisting on 37 others, was first-team All-Conference selection at third base. This marks the third time Shaffer has received such an honor.

"Jane was a great team leader on the field," said Guevara. "She's our most versatile player we have. We could put her anywhere on the field and she always gave 100%."

Smith, the Cards' reserve outfielder, ended the season batting

.250.

"Janice was always willing to work hard," commented Guevara. "She spent a lot of additional time practicing and improving her game."

The Lady Cardinals finished ninth in the 2nd annual NAIA national softball tournament held in Kearney, Nebraska, last week. Rookie coach Guevara will return all but two players from the record-setting squad. The Cards (20-15) posted their first 20-win season in four years of competition.

Canton is still seeking golfers, tennis players

ment, 1150 S. Canton Center Rd., Canton, Michigan.

There is a $24 per person charge and the instructions will be held at the Fellows Creek Golf Course for boys and girls. The class will feature sessions on rules, golf etiquette, the swing and other pertinent details of the game.

A tournament between the students will climax the six-week long class.

Brown U awards letter to Ruark

Tim Ruark, a junior shortstop from Westland, has been awarded a varsity letter for his performance with the 1982 Brown University baseball team.

The Bruins finished the season with a 21-17 mark overall, setting a school record for most wins in a season. The 1977 team held the previous record when it recorded a 19-12 mark. Coach Dave Stenhouse's team finished in a tie for third-place in the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League (E.I.B.L.) with a 9-9 record.

Ruark played in 19 games for the Bruins this spring. He spent most of his time at shortstop, but also served as the designated hitter and made three brief pitching appearances. He was 11-45 at the plate, batting .244 with nine runs batted in. He had three doubles and one homer, and had a three-hit game early in the season.

Tim is the son of Donald and Pearl Ruark of 6416 Inkster Road in Westland, and is a graduate of Westland John Glenn High School where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He was an All-State pick in football, and an All-Area and All-League in all three sports.

Putting contest scheduled

In order to find the area's "best golf putter", the Canton Parks and Recreation Department is holding its inaugural "Great Canton Putt Off".

Competition is open to any golfer, regardless of age and will feature putts of varying length and difficulty on a regular golf green.

The competition will be a good test of the golfer's skill. The contest will be held beginning at 10 a.m., Sat., June 26 at the Fellows Creek Golf Course Practice Putting green, and awards will be presented to the 3 lowest putters.

For further information contact the Fellows Creek Golf Course or then Canton Parks and Recreation Department.

Unbeatable

Although Romulus has had its problems winning on the football fields and baseball diamonds of late, guest speaker Ron Hopson (above) recalled the 'days of glory' when the Eagles went undefeated on two consecutive campaigns in the late Forties. The occasion for the reminiscing was the Romulus High Athletic Awards' Banquet co-sponsored by the local Rotary Club.

Rotary presents athletic awards

Romulus Rotary and the Romulus High School Booster Club co-sponsored a sports award banquet and all the junior high and high school athletes were invited.

Joel Carr, principal at Romulus High School and President-elect for the Romulus Rotary, introduced the guest speaker, Ron Hopson. Hopson is a 1951 graduate of RHS and a member of the famous 1949-50 football teams which were undefeated for two consecutive seasons.

No other Romulus High football team has gone undefeated in a full season before 1949 or since 1950. During those two fabulous years the men of RHS scored a total of 478 points and the stingy defense allowed the opponents 60 points.

Hopson, a Rotarian, openly expressed his delight to be a part of RHS and its future and was excited over the success of athletes today and the athletes in the future years.

Airman Roberts to serve in the Netherlands

Airman 1st Class Bruce A. Roberts Jr., son of Bruce A. and Susan J. Roberts of 2712 S. Delos, New Boston, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist course at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.

Graduates of the course were trained in aircraft engine maintenance, repair and service, and earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Roberts will now serve with the 32nd Tactical Fighter Squadron at Camp New Amsterdam Air Base, Netherlands.

He is a 1981 graduate of Huron High School.

Ron also introduced the coaches of RHS who gave out awards and acknowledgement to individual achievements in their respective sport or event; Baseball, Track, Football, Basketball, Wrestling, Volleyball, Tennis, Softball and Cheer Leaders.

Schieda completes training

Airman Joseph C. Schieda, son of Susan R. Schieda of 15329 Meadow, Romulus, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training. During the six weeks at Lackland

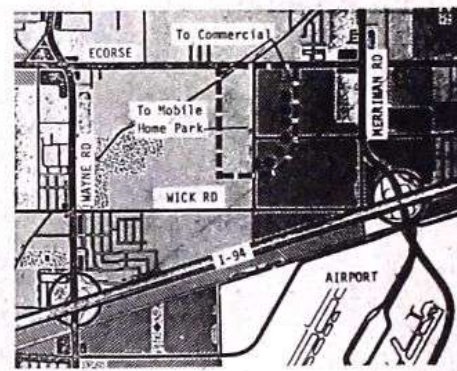

Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations. He is a 1977 graduate of Romulus High School.

Local horsemen sponsor dog-gone good show

By ALYCE BROWN
(Special to ANP)

Since its inception in 1974, the Romulus Horseman's Association has held approximately 90 meetings and hosted approximately 75 guest speakers representing the horse industry.

This month, however, the club has gone to the dogs—the dogs from K-9 Academy of New Boston.

On Wednesday, June 16, 8:30 p.m. at Romulus City Hall, the local horse group will host an obedience and guard dog demonstration presented by Terry and Diane Shoenbach, owners of the canine school, along with their head instructor Larry King.

Although horses and dogs are strange bedfellows, they do have one common denominator—they both serve man. From the big bucks of horse racing to the protection dog in today's violent society, there is an ever-increasing demand placed upon these animals.

To meet these demands with any degree of success requires the assistance of those specialized few who possess a thorough knowledge and understanding of, and a love for, the animals they train. Three such people are Terry and Diane Shoenbach and Larry King from K-9 Academy.

Terry and Diane started their canine training school 12 years ago with Officer Larry King from the Van Buren Police Department joining them just 2 years later. They began with obedience and guard work and graduated into problem dogs, tracking dogs and the indepth training of police dogs. They are on call for various local police departments for crowd control and tracking use with their own dogs, and they are the only school in the area to function in this capacity.

Once a dog has been trained for police work, his value is an immeasurable as that of the officer he rides with. "We would like to get more involved in this specialized field," said Diane, "but a lot of departments aren't ready for this

yet. The police dog would still not be specifically what we train," she added, "we train for the public, and we present a practical training program for all dogs and dog owners."

Before any dog and their handler can be enrolled into the training program, they must first undergo an evaluation session. "This is the most dangerous aspect of dog training," Terry commented, "we don't know the kind of training or discipline the dog has received at home and we are working with the raw product."

On the other hand, guard dog class is the safest," he added, "by the time the dogs and their handlers have reached that level, we have worked with them a minimum of 16 weeks, and we know the strengths and weaknesses of both and have a pretty good idea of what we are working with."

Obedience training consists of beginning and advanced levels with just under 50 percent of those graduates going on to guard class.

The dogs going on to this class should have a good steady temperament and must weigh at least 50 lbs. "All dogs are capable of being a bark and growl dog, but maybe not a man-stopping dog," said Diane.

"Toy Poodles can learn guard training and look just as effective as a larger dog, but pound wise they aren't as effective." She continued, "the best guard dogs in class are the dogs that come in totally and completely friendly. The aggression is then put into them and its used to your advantage not to the dog's advantage. Its used like a light switch—you turn it on when you need it and its off at all other times."

Before and after all their demonstrations, the audience, which often consists of elementary school age youngsters, is welcomed to pet their guard dogs. "During the 12 years we've done this, we've never had an incident," said Diane. Although these demonstrations dazzle the audience, they are aimed at educating the public to the dos and don'ts of owning a dog, general dog behavior and dog psychology.

Their numerous public appearances have included: various school districts, scouting groups, adult organizations, credit unions, humane societies, a party given for the doctors from the University of Michigan which was held at the Briarwood Hilton Hotel. It was followed by a six course black tie supper with the dogs at chair-side, seminars given for other trainers and two guest appearances on the local television show "Kelly and Company."

The stars of the show for the Romulus Horseman's Association will be the Shoenbach's own three dogs: Barney, who is a 10 year veteran and excels in all areas of canine training; Tracer, who has achieved the highest tracking dog award in Canada that can be earned; Brydee, who is the gun and drug detection specialist and Duke who was at one time the Trenton Police Dog and is now owned by horse club member Jim Brown.

When the training trio is not in the classroom, giving demonstrations or out in the fields for tracking dog training Terry and Diane turn their energies towards the exhibitor's arena competing throughout the United States and Canada. Although they are both active in the dog obedience trials, its Diane who has the greater interest in this area and instructs her own obedience show class at the academy.

Terry plans to write a book someday entitled, "This Damn Dog!" Needless to say, the title alone captures the thoughts of most every person who has ever owned a dog. Concerned dog owners who have said, "this damn dog," would perhaps better understand why the situation reached that point and how it can be avoided by attending this demonstration. As always, the Romulus Horseman's Association meetings are open to the public.

For those unable to attend, but would like more information, they can contact the training center at 782-0387.

HURON TOWNSHIP BOARD SPECIAL MEETING June 3, 1982

The Special Meeting of the Huron Township Board was called to order at 8:00 P.M. by Supervisor Sullivan. Roy Raker led the pledge of allegiance. Roll Call: Ashby, Bates, Carey, Gamber, Geierman, Puskar and Sullivan — all present.

Also in attendance were Jerry R. Jarrett, Township Consulting Engineer and Richard G. James, Township Attorney.

The purpose of the meeting was to hear the presentation of John Layman, President of Lyon Development Co., Division of Browning, Ferris Industries for a development project for a landfill site located between I-275 and the railroad tracks on Sibley Road. Also appearing with Mr. Layman were Yeyer, Tised & Hendo — Hydrogeologists Ben Tised and Keith Swaffar; Bill Keenan, Vice President of Browning Ferris Industries of Michigan, and Hull Consulting Engineers John Hull and David Gerdeman.

There were approximately 100 interested Township residents in attendance. Mr. Sullivan explained that this was NOT a Public Hearing. He asked that any questions be held until the end of the presentation and then submitted in writing so that the questions would receive full answers.

Mr. Layman and his associates explained that they have options on about 105 acres of land and that they had done test borings to determine IF the site is suitable for a landfill. He explained that IF tests prove positive and a permit is issued by the Wayne County Board of Health and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the landfill would be designed, built and operated under the restrictions of P.A. 641. He explained the criteria that the site would have to have to be considered for a permit. Their tests have indicated that this would be an excellent location for a landfill — from their standpoint. He stated that their "tests" have indicated that this property would qualify for a hazardous waste site BUT they don't deal in that type of landfill!

Mr. Layman said that IF their plans work out and the site is developed accordingly, the landfill would be in operation approximately 10-12 years. That at the conclusion of the project, they would donate the land back to the Township for a dollar. Mr. Sullivan stated that this Township has enough parks and recreation area (4000 acres of H.C.M.A.) and that he didn't think WE would be interested in getting this land donated to the Township. Mr. Layman explained the "benefits" that Huron Township would derive from this type of project: FREE dumping privileges for ALL township residents and/or the contractor who picks up the trash. They would build a "dumping station" on site for the use of Township residents. They would pay an "Annual Permit Fee" to the Township, property taxes on a million dollar development, etc. They would develop the site in two phases and the actual dumping site would be at least 400' north of Sibley Road.

There would be three (3) monitoring wells to be used for testing ground waters to be sure that there is no leachate filtering. There would be an 8' berm around the site and it would be landscaped. There would be a fence around the entire project with entry only from Sibley Road, west of I-275. There would be an "office" at the entry gate. The "landfill hole" would be 40' deep with a leachate collection system installed at the bottom.

They would post a $500,000 surety bond to assure that the site is stabilized and NOT a health hazard for five (5) years after completion. Every day's fill would be covered with soil to help to prevent formation of gases and leachate, etc. They would be dealing ONLY with residential and industrial dry solids — no liquids or chemicals. They are going to file an application next week for a Class II Landfill — feeling that this is a "natural" site for it.

The hydrogeological testing found that there are several feet of sandy type soils on the top of approximately 75' of clay over rock. The landfill site would be operated by "trained personnel" who would provide daily coverage by bulldozers and the use of heavy compactors. There would be blacktop roads on the site and the entire site would be landscaped. The Wayne County Board of Health has done a "preliminary inspection" of the proposed site, but their findings were not reported. Mr. Layman stated that he presently operates three other landfills in Erie Twp., Lyon Twp., and Marshall, Mich.

Any landfill site proposed within 10,000 feet of a jet runway must be reviewed by the Resource Recovery Committee.

Mr. Layman and his Associates answered numerous questions from the audience and members of the Township Board. The majority of Board members stated that they are NOT in favor of this proposal and would take any/all legal steps available to stop the project.

The audience was informed that PRIOR to any work being done on this project, the MDNR and the Wayne County Health Department would have to issue any permits required under P.A. 641, then the developer would have to appear before the Huron Township Zoning Board of Appeals, the Huron Township Planning Commission and the Wayne County Solid Waste Disposal Committee. There will be numerous public hearings on the proposal, but the Michigan Department of Natural Resources has the FINAL say on whether or not a permit is issued. The Township does not have much control over the permits, however, the operation of the landfill IF permits are issued would be under local jurisdiction.

Motion by Bates

To DOUBLE advertise any/all public hearings regarding this matter in the future.

Motion by Carey Supported by Bates

To adjourn the meeting.

Motion Carried.

Meeting adjourned at 9:55 P.M.

Romulus pupils take part in 'Poetry of Life'

It isn't often that junior high school students get that rare opportunity to receive instruction from a college professor, but that's what happened this spring at a Romulus junior high school.

Two classes of English students at Romulus Junior High School received instruction in writing poetry from Herbert Scott, an English professor at Western Michigan University.

Scott met with the students in one of Jackie Riley's seventh grade classes and one of George Bowersox's eighth grade classes nine times.

During each class period, Scott would give the students an assignment to create a certain kind of poem. These poems were read aloud by the student-poets and shared with their classmates.

The students created body poems, college poems, lost poems, I remember poems and others.

Scott's presence was made possible because of a grant from the Michigan Council for the Humanities. The Wayne County Intermediate School District Office of Grants and Planning directed the program.

Dave Parzyck and Mrs. Lorene Erickson from Wayne County recruited seven poets and involved ten school districts in the project. The project was called the "Poetry Life Project."

Some of the students' poems from the Poetry Life Project are on display at the Romulus Public Library in the children's section.

In addition to this display, the student-poets from the involved classes will receive a book of poems containing one of the poems they created.

Here are two examples of the students' poems:

My Great Grandfather
by Troy Tipton, grade 8

My great grandfather died
two years ago.
He perished right in my grandmother's arms.

When I was small,
he used to take me up into the attic,
and tell me stories of his life.

At the funeral,
everyone was crying,
all except me.
I felt alone—an outsider.
Everyone was staring at me,
as if I didn't care.

Sometimes I go up to the attic,
thinking he will be there,
waiting to tell me a story.

Promptly at Five
by Dawn Sergott, grade 7

I once knew a woman who severed a limb

While leaving a grocery store.
She stuck out her hand,

While holding a ham,
and off

Came the hand
she'd once known.

Before she died,
in such horror she cried,

"Help!
Dinner has to be made."

He's vice-president

William Marbly, a Junior at Romulus Senior High School, was elected Vice-President of Region IX, State of Michigan Distributive Education Clubs of America (D.E.C.A.) at the State Career Development Conference held in late March. He is one of nine Vice-Presidents representing D.E.C.A. regions State-wide. William's region includes Washtenaw, Monroe and Wayne counties (except Detroit Schools). He will be attending a special leadership development program for State of Michigan student leaders to be held at Michigan State University in July.
